Drought Aid Plea Returns To Nebraska

Red Tape Evident In Hitchcock Case

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

The hard-pressed farmers and stockmen in arid Hitchcock County are finding there is no swift and easy road to obtaining federal drought emergency assistance.

The Department of Agriculture, which is considering a formal request for drought assistance for the county Tuesday sent back to the state Agriculture mobilization committee a "more information" request.

Onward, S. P. O'Brien

Agriculture spokesmen in Hitchcock County requested the aid in a meeting held in Trenton, Sept. 18. Following this the State Mobilization Committee, which includes officials of the Production and Marketing Administration, Farmers Home Administration, State Agriculture Department, and Extension Service, met and recommended to Governor Crouse that the county be declared a disaster area. The governor approved this and forwarded his recommendation to the President.

Since that time the request has been considered by the White House, Secretary of Agriculture and by Civil Defense Administration. Val Peterson, the state Agriculture mobilization committee's representative in Washington, the following information on the county:

1. The amount of available pasture and the present percentage of normal.
2. Data on recent rainfall in the county and its percentage of normal.
3. The number of stock to be fed in the area.
4. An estimate of the CCC fee which will have to be ordered.
5. The recommendations of the State Agricultural Mobilization Committee in regard to the situation.

Back Again

State PMA officials have notified the Hitchcock County Mobilization Committee to forward needed information to Lincoln as quickly as possible. PMA committee chairman, said Tuesday that further indications have come from Dundy County that that area might also ask drought assistance. He said he believed that several counties in the state might seek drought assistance before the drought conditions improve. "It's getting drier out there after day," he said.

Life Sentence To Anderson For Murder

SIDNEY, Neb. (U)—James Anderson, 48, of Alliance pleaded guilty to second degree murder Tuesday and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

He appeared before District Judge J. J. Nisley of North Platte county today after he had pleaded guilty to the charge in county court, in connection with the shotgun death of Mrs. Louise Thomas of Pine Ridge, S.D., last Friday.

County Attorney Jack Knickly said Anderson admitted shooting Mrs. Thomas in an argument over liquor at a party staged in a farmhouse near here Wednesday night. She lived about 39 hours after being shot in the abdomen with a .410 gauge shotgun.

Knicksy Smith and Virginia Johnson, who were present at the party, have been charged with intoxication and John D. Brown, who reported the shooting was held as a material witness.

Anderson was held in the Cheyenne County jail Tuesday pending transportation to Lincoln to begin serving his term.

Reminder: Don't Rake Leaves Into City Streets

With the fall weather has come a reminder from Street Superintendent Myers that it is a violation of city ordinances to rake leaves into street gutters.

The Street Department, said Myers, will not pick up the leaves in yards or gutters. Also, warned Myers, it is against the law to burn leaves or other rubbish on paving.

Each burning, he said, not only ruins the paving but makes street sweeping very difficult.

New School Building Is Finished For State Home For Children

This new $282,000 school building at Whitehall, state home for children at 5903 Walker, has been turned over to the Board of Control by the contractor, and Board Chairman W. H. Diers announced that classes will begin meeting in the building in about 30 days. All that remains to be done is to place equipment in the brick and concrete structure. In addition to shops, class rooms and an auditorium-gymnasium, the building will house the institution's administrative offices. The home, which houses 110 children, teaches pupils in the first eight grades at its own school and sends those of high school age to public high schools. (Star Photo.)

Treasury To Borrow More Than $1 Billion

National Debt Will Be Only Half Or 1 Billion Under Legal Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Tuesday disclosed that it plans to borrow an additional 1 1/2 to 2 billion dollars late this month or early in November. This would make the national debt only half a billion or a billion less than the legal ceiling of 275 billion dollars.

A Treasury spokesman, who asked not to be identified, told newsmen that W. Randolph Burgess, deputy for debt management to Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, is consulting with bankers, representatives of pension funds and other investors to determine in what way the government will borrow and what interest rate it will pay.

Church Group Names Rev. Laib To Post

The Rev. Milton Laib, pastor of the Northeast Community Church of Lincoln, is new moderator of the Lincoln Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers.

New officers of the group were elected at the annual all-day meeting Tuesday at Cortland. Main speaker was the Rev. G. H. Towle, a missionary from Adala, India.

At the evening meeting the new Northeast Community Church was formally received into the association.

Mrs. Marvin Sutter of Liberty was elected assistant moderator of the group and the Rev. Ebert Turnquist of David City was elected scribe and treasurer.

Named to the Christian education committee are: Prof. Joan Breneman, Cortland; Mrs. Ed Lorenson, Weirton; Mrs. Ed Lorenson, Weirton; Mrs. Ed Lorenson, Weirton.

Committee on ministerial standing: Rev. Avery Weir, Lincoln; Rev. Avery Weir, Lincoln; Rev. Avery Weir, Lincoln.

Committee on nominations: Mrs. Red Carter, Cortland; Mrs. Gilbert Untereher, Lincoln; Rev. Walter Rindin, Wahoo.

Rev. Lyon Elected To County Sunday School Group Post

The Rev. James Lyon of Hickman was elected president of the Lancaster County Sunday School Association at their annual convention at the Martell Methodist Church Tuesday.

Rev. Rezelman of Della Church was elected vice president and Mrs. Victor Siegelmeier of Sprague was elected secretary-treasurer.

Farmer Resistance Predicted To Closing Regional SCS Office In Lincoln

The regional Soil Conservation Service office with its 162 man staff in Lincoln described its position as "interested but uninvolved" on Washington moves to liquidate the Lincoln office along with the six other present regional offices.

The "Business as Usual" sign was out and Director H. G. Bobst said, "We have received no information from Washington on contemplated changes and know only what has been in the papers. That is not enough to warrant conclusions."

However, official silence did not stifle questions on the farming level pertaining to the effect of the contemplated move on (1) The character of the Soil Conservation Program, whether it would be continued at the present pace or diminished, (2) The effect on regional budgets and planning and, (3) The service changes that might result from far-removed headquarters.

Everett Barr, Liberty, president of the state SCS Supervisors Association described the plans for liquidating the Nebraska regional office as "bad news."

"This will meet with stout resistance on the farmer's level. It is an excellent office and the backbone of our fine program. I cannot imagine any replacement on the state or Washington level that could match it," Barr declared.

He added that conservation-minded farmers have been watching Washington developments with a "measure of anxiety" because "early statements from the Department of Agriculture sound like they are more interested in watering down the service than improving it."

Leadership In Unicom—Yes Or No?

Officers of the two political parties maintain that one reason why the Unicomeral should be changed to a partisan Bicameral is because there is no leadership in the Unicomeral.

Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton, a veteran state legislator, has an answer to this criticism, backed up by examples.

The story by Star Staff Writer Arch Donovan appears on Page 7.

Free Use Of 'Surplus' Land OK'd

No U.S. Rules On Acres Diverted Under Crops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has decided to place no special restrictions on the use of upwards of 30 million acres of land expected to be diverted from wheat, cotton and corn under surplus control programs next year.

This decision was disclosed by Howard Gordon, head of the Agriculture Department's Production and Marketing Administration.

It means that farmers will be free to use land taken out of wheat, cotton and corn for grass, pastures, soy beans, flaxseed, oats, barley, rye, grain sorghums or any other crop except those specifically controlled under marketing quotas and acreage allotment programs.

154 Levels Pending

Wheat farmers already have approved marketing quotas for their crop, and similar controls are being drafted for cotton. Corn may be subjected to the less restrictive "planting" allotments.

The department plans, however, to set price supports for possible alternative crops at levels which in themselves would not serve as incentives to overplanting.

Gordon said 1954 price support levels for the major alternative crops have not been determined yet. But his statement that they would not be incentive in character led to speculation that they may be reduced from this year's support levels, which included 60 cents a bushel for oats, $1.43 for rye, a $1.24 for barley, $2.56 for soybeans and $2.43 for 100 pounds of grain sorghums.

Two weeks ago, in an address at Boston, the President said no national defense sacrifice, including any tax, is too great for Americans in the struggle against "enemies of freedom" equipped with the most terrible weapon of destruction.

Confusion over Russian H-bomb claims has been multiplied by recent divergent statements coming from key officials.

Peterson Has Doubts

Monday, Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson, the Nebraska, said on a radio broadcast, "I am assuming . . . that no one has the hydrogen bomb yet. Certainly I hope not, because there is some difference between having a (thermonuclear) device and having a transportable bomb that can be dropped around the world."

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming said in an official report to the President over the week end:

"Soviet Russia is capable of delivering suddenly and without warning the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States."

Flemming told newsmen he was speaking of thermonuclear weapons — the hydrogen ("H") bomb.

However, Chairman Cole (R-NY) of the Senate House Atomic Energy Commission said last week-end that Russia already has enough "deliverable" H-bombs to put this country in real and imminent danger.

Becklers Killed At Crossing

Seward Couple Lose Lives Near Shickley

GENEVA, Neb. (AP)—A Seward, Neb., man and wife en route to a funeral were killed Tuesday when the car in which they were riding was struck broadside by a Burlington freight train at a crossing three miles east and a quarter of a mile south of Shickley.

The dead were Joe Beckler, 60-year-old farmer living northeast of Seward, and his wife, 53. Driver of the car was Floyd Steckley, 46. Steckley and his wife, Agnes, 44, were taken to a Geneva hospital where attendants said Tuesday night that they were "apparently not critical."

The Beckleys are from Beaver Crossing. The Becklers were sitting on the right side of the car which was hit by the train, Fillmore County Sheriff Albert T. Tombassen said.

The car was en route to a funeral at the Menonite Church about two miles south of the accident scene.

The deaths brought to 240 the number of Nebraska auto fatalities this year. A year ago the total was 259.

Mrs. Steckley and Mrs. Beckler were sisters.

The Becklers lived between Milford and Beaver Crossing before moving to their present farm.

Don't Worry! You'll Get Car Tax Bill

City tax officials have been plagued with calls from befuddled tax payers wondering what has become of their automobile assessment.

Tax payers need not worry, said City Treasurer Frank J. Miller, as they will receive their car tax statements in due time. However, he pointed out, the car tax statements will come this year from the county.

The confusion arises from the fact that the city included car taxes on the regular tax statement it sent out last year for real and personal property. Under the new state tax law, the county will collect auto taxes this year and give the city back its proportionate share of the taxes paid.

The auto tax statements from the county, said Miller, should be sent out some time around the first of the year.

Contradictory Claim Is Made By Defense Chief

Statement That Soviets Lag U.S. By '3 Or 4 Years' In Atomic Advance At Odds With Others' Assertions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said Tuesday it is "perhaps stretching it a bit" to say that the Russians have a hydrogen bomb ready to drop and planes ready to drop them.

In contrast to some recent official expressions of urgency, Wilson told a news conference he believed the Russians are "three or four years back of us" in atomic weapons development.

"The Russians are certainly not going to deliver one bomb with one plane and have nothing to back it up," he said.

The defense secretary expressed doubt that the Russians have an actual, workable hydrogen bomb or the long-range planes needed to deliver a sustained attack against free world targets.

The defense chief's statement came a few hours after President Eisenhower spoke out against the threat of global H-bomb suicide involving "the possible doom of every nation."

Addressing a church meeting in Atlantic City, N. J., Eisenhower cited the "titanic force" of modern nuclear weapons whose unleashing, he said, could lead only to "sudden and mass destruction . . . erasure of cities."

Third Time in Two Weeks

"The mysteries of the atom are known to Russia," the President said at one point. It was the third time in two weeks Eisenhower has alluded to the nuclear threat that confronts the world.

At his news conference last Wednesday, the President said he would give the American people a frank statement on what must be done as soon as he has evaluated the threat posed by Russia's progress toward the H-bomb.

Two weeks ago, in an address at Boston, the President said no national defense sacrifice, including any tax, is too great for Americans in the struggle against "enemies of freedom" equipped with the most terrible weapon of destruction.

Confusion over Russian H-bomb claims has been multiplied by recent divergent statements coming from key officials.

NU Student Wins Scholarship Said To Be 'Largest'

OMAHA (AP)—A scholarship, said to be the largest ever given to a University of Nebraska student, was awarded Tuesday to Francis Ostidek, Lawrence, Neb.

The grant was announced jointly by the University of Nebraska and the Omaha Steel Works, donor of the fund.

Ostidek, a freshman in the College of Engineering and Architecture and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ostidek, received a $1,000 check as a starting point. He will receive $1,000 at the beginning of each of the succeeding academic years.

The scholarship is given at the rate of one to a year to incoming freshmen "who have shown an absolute lack of financial resources for an engineering education, are graduates of a Nebraska school of the high school level, and whose character, leadership and academic accomplishments point toward success in the field of engineering."

The students are selected for the award by the University of Nebraska foundation scholarship committee.

Medical Society Welfare Advisory Group Is Selected

Dr. Robert A. Youngman and Dr. Horace V. Munger were named co-chairmen of the Lancaster County Medical Society Joint Public Health and Welfare Advisory Committee.

The committee will work on the problem, created by a new law passed during the last session of the Legislature, which provides that the county must bear the cost of medical expenses incurred above the $60 limit allowed welfare patients.

A proposal has been mentioned which would have the county contract with the medical society to provide medical treatment on a set scale.

No World Affairs Institute Slated

The World Affairs Committee, meeting at the YWCA Tuesday evening, decided not to sponsor a World Affairs Institute as it had done for the past three years.

Mrs. Arthur Smith, who presided over the meeting, said "with much regret, it does not seem feasible at this time because so many organizations are already inviting really good speakers on the subject."

She also said that the Friends Service Committee, which usually contributes the funds necessary for such an institute, felt that Lincoln should raise all of the funds in a community effort.

Coercion Issue Put To India

PW Custodian Shies From Force Policy

PANMUNJOM (Wednesday) (U)—Custodian India, caught in a squeeze by Allied and Red demands, shied away from a policy of force in handling 22,500 Chinese and North Korean prisoners balking at a return to Communism.

Shortly after receiving a letter from the U. N. commander demanding that these men be guaranteed "freedom of choice," Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya refused to say that his troops would compel the prisoners to listen individually to Red "explanation" teams.

The Reds are making this their key demand. At a crowded press conference, attended both by Communist and Allied newsmen, Thimayya soft-pedaled the issue by saying:

"I think we can ask the prisoners to listen for 5 or 10 minutes."

The U. N. Command agreed to start work today on explanation booths at a new site agreeable to the Reds in the demilitarized zone. Indications were that the twice-postponed explanations may get started within a week.

Because of the delays, the Reds want the questioning period beyond the Dec. 24 deadline but Thimayya agreed with the Allies he was powerless to do this.

Gordon Coon Injured In Two-Car Collision

Gordon Coon of 1435 B suffered back injuries in a two car collision Tuesday evening at 9th and D Streets. He is reported in "good condition" at Lincoln General Hospital where he is being held overnight.

Coon was a passenger in a car driven by his wife, Fern, who was going south on 9th Street at the time of the impact. She was uninjured by the collision.

Driver of the other vehicle was Mrs. Emma Sieckmeyer, 52, of 701 A.

Farm Price Levels Up; Below 1952

Food Grains Lead
1 Per Cent Rise

The index of prices received by Nebraska farmers increased 1 per cent to 288 per cent of the base period of 1910-14 during the month ended Sept. 15. But, the State and Federal Crop Reporting Service pointed out, it was 7 per cent under the figure for Sept. 15 of last year.

Higher prices for wheat, alfalfa, hay, hogs, wholesale milk and eggs overweighed lower prices for lambs, wild hay, alfalfa seed, calves, sheep and chickens to record the slight monthly increase.

The feed grain index was up 5 per cent as a result of a nine cent per bushel increase for wheat.

The feed grains and hay index was unchanged.

Hog prices at $24.30 per hundredweight average registered gain for the ninth consecutive month. Prices are now $8.50 per hundredweight higher than Dec. 15 of last year.

But lamb prices were off $2 per hundredweight and calves off $1.20. At $15.40 calves were the lowest since Sept. 15, 1946. Cattle were up 10 cents.

The dairy products index was up 2 per cent as a result of a 40 cent per hundredweight increase in wholesale milk prices.

The national index was a bit under 1 per cent lower than last month, standing at 286 per cent of the base period. It was 1 per cent under last year.

Two Newspapers In Nebraska Cited

CHICAGO (AP)—Awards of merit were presented Tuesday to two Nebraska newspapers in the local government news contest of the Indiana Daily Press Association.

The Lincoln Evening Journal placed second in its circulation class, and the Hastings Daily Tribune received honorable mention in its circulation group.

All in all, 25 newspapers from nine states received the awards.

The contest was conducted by the University of Wisconsin School of Journalism. The newspapers were judged for thoroughness and variety of local reporting of government news, including city, county and local state and federal activities, for localizing of state and federal government news, for quality of writing, and for graphic devices and headline display.

D. S. Cochran Rites Held At Arlington

Services for Daniel S. Cochran, 42, Cincinnati, O., formerly of Lincoln, were held at Cincinnati with burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

Mr. Cochran, who died Sept. 23, was born in Lincoln and attended Lincoln High School.

A World War II veteran, he was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Katherine; a son, Daniel; his mother, Mrs. Anna J. Cochran of Lincoln; sisters, Joy Cochran of Lincoln, Mrs. Hamilton Mitten of Fremont and Mrs. Louis Basala of Mantoloking, Ill., and a brother, J. W. of Long Beach, Calif.

Alert Man Keeps Blaze From Spreading

Edward Itzer of 1546 So. 22nd saw fire spurring out of the side window at the Pechon Upholstery Co. at 1121 N. and rushed inside to help prevent the spread of the flames after calling the fire department. As a result damage to upholstery stuffing and cushions was only slight. The fire was caused by an overheated electric iron, a fire department official said, after an inspection of the premises was made Tuesday evening after the fire.

News Around The Globe

Clark Retires

TOKYO (Wednesday)—(INS)—Gen Mark W. Clark relinquished his post as supreme allied commander in the Far East today and left Tokyo by plane for the United States and retirement after 40 years in the Army.

As he bid farewell to Japan's Premier Shigeru Yoshida and other dignitaries at the airport, Clark declared:

"I hope and pray that the armistice we've signed in Korea will bring peace and stability to the Far East."

Drug Trial Slated

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The dean of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School said Tuesday he "understood" that a vaccine designed to prevent polio "will go on extensive trial this year."

Dr. Alms C. McGuinness said he was referring to a vaccine whose development was cautiously announced last spring by Dr. Jonas E. Salk and associates of the University of Pittsburgh. Research on the vaccine has been continued since that time.

New Fear Arises

KANSAS CITY (AP)—New fear arose Tuesday night for the life of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease on the ninth day since his abduction. A spokesman strongly hinted something had gone wrong with efforts to negotiate his release.

With tears in his eyes, the spokesman said:

"There has been no contact with a go-between. No nothing."

Even as Stewart Johnson, a business associate of the 71-year-old father, spoke rumors persisted a development was imminent. There has been a rumor for several days the family had been contacted by the kidnapers and a $500,000 ransom demanded.

MARLBORO, Vt. (AP)—Six children—including four from one family—perished in a fire Tuesday at a small farm house in this little community.

MoPac Plans Improvements

Improvements are contemplated on the Missouri Pacific Railroad system in this area. It was announced by P. J. Neff, chief executive of the road, Tuesday during an inspection here.

Neff was here from St. Louis as part of an annual inspection of the railroad's western properties. He was accompanied by several other high officials of the system.

Neff said he could not disclose details regarding the improvements but pointed out that the railroad is increasing the number of diesel locomotives each year and that all its western lines are completely dieselized.

A additional installations of radio at terminals is planned and some of the work may be done next year, he said.

John Johnson, 74, Dies; Longtime Lincoln Resident

John Johnson, 74, 1310 A, custodian at the Iowa Nebraska Light and Power Company for many years, died at his home Tuesday.

Born in Lincoln, Mr. Johnson lived here nearly all his life. He was a member of Quinn Chapel.

His wife, Odessa, died in January.

Surviving is a cousin, Edwin Todd of Lincoln.

Libel Suits Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)—An out-of-court settlement of two $300,000 libel suits brought against columnist Drew Pearson by Norman E. Littell, Washington lawyer, was reported Tuesday.

Littell's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, confirmed that a compromise had been reached in both suits but said he could not reveal the amount involved because of an agreement with Pearson's lawyers. However, the Washington Times Herald placed the figure at $40,000.

Probe Is Halted

WASHINGTON (INS)—Senate Commerce Committee Chairman John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) ordered his group Tuesday to drop its investigation of racketeering on the nation's waterfronts.

Bricker announced he has directed disbanding, effective Nov. 30, of a subcommittee which was created and headed by the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R-N.H.), to conduct the inquiry.

Bricker claimed that the subcommittee had exceeded its authority by broadening its activities into a general crime investigation.

Flour Attachment Ordered By Judge; Adulteration Cited

Federal District Judge John W. Delehant has signed orders for attachment by the government of 81 bags of flour and four bags of doughnut mix allegedly in the possession of two Falls City business firms.

Asst. U. S. District Attorney John Deming charges that 81 bags of flour, weighing 50 pounds each, are adulterated under Title 21 of the U. S. Code because of the presence of foreign matter.

The flour is now in the possession of the Falls City Mercantile Co., the information alleges.

In another information, the government alleges that four 100-pound bags of doughnut mix, in possession of Baker's Bakery at Falls City, is adulterated by the presence of insects.

O Street Viaduct Issue Is Revived

State Engineer L. N. Ress and Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee representatives have discussed a new approach to the construction of a new O Street viaduct.

Neither Ress nor Chamber of Commerce officials, however, would discuss details of the plan.

According to Ress, the help of Nebraska's Congressional delegation has been sought in attempting to work out the plan. Ress also stated that it was a plan that other states may also be interested in for solving similar problems.

The city recently failed in an effort to have the O Street viaduct classed as a secondary road and thus become eligible for 100 per cent federal secondary road funds.

Westover Lauded For Contributions To Church, City

Tribute was paid to Richard V. (Dick) Westover for his contributions to the church and community at funeral services for Mr. Westover Tuesday at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. David Gracey, rector of Holy Trinity Church said Mr. Westover was "one of Lincoln's outstanding business men, who gave of his time and talents for the economic betterment of the city."

"Mr. Westover was a constant supporter of community affairs, aiding in many worthwhile efforts."

"As Junior warden for many years, he helped lead St. Matthew's from a once-proud mission to a prouder, stronger and more vital parish," Rev. Gracey said.

Rev. James Stilwell, rector of St. Matthew's, officiated at the rites.

Mr. Westover died Saturday at his home following an illness.

Health Board OKs Hiring Of Nurse

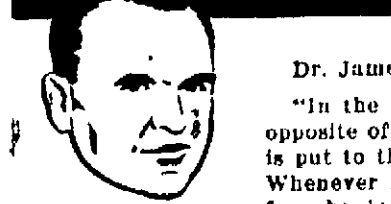

A graduate nurse, Mrs. Glenna Lewis, 22, was approved for employment with the County Health Department and a decision on hiring a veterinarian was tabled by the County Health Board Tuesday night.

Dr. E. P. Anderson, former

1947-1952 state veterinarian, had indicated he was interested in the position and the health board after discussion, decided to table the motion until a more detailed appraisal of the position's duties can be made.

In PURSUIT of HAPPINESS

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

Dr. James Clark Moloney continues:

"In the Okinawan culture, . . . the exact opposite of our practices are used. The child is put to the breast the first day of its life. Whenever he has suffered shock of pain or fear he is nursed. Even the dry, milkless breast of the grandmother may be given the child when the child is undergoing pain."

"In the adults of a culture wherein the infant is early and long fixed in a genuinely warm relationship with the mother is built a different kind of response to the exigencies of life. You will see that the shock and discomfort incident to modern warfare, even the shrapnel wounds in one breast, do not halt lactation in those mothers, as most certainly it does in a culture like our own."

"It was the observation of the characteristically courageous behavior of these people under the stresses of war, disease and pestilence, the great scarcity of neuroses, particularly of the anxiety type, which led me to feel that this culture has something to teach our own. A people who have laid down in their visceral learning the sense of security with which to meet such odds have apparently an insurance against anxiety. A culture in which studied neglect is practiced has on the contrary an after effect not unlike that involved in the experiment of Frederick II.

"Let us turn for a moment to the consideration of the present status of our adult population to see what has been happening to our people since the cradle and the rocking chair have been in abeyance. Statistics indicate that in 1880 the ratio of insane to the 100,000 population was 80. By 1923 it had mounted to 243 to the 100,000. In 1941 the number of insane per 100,000 had reached the astounding figure of 365."

Ike, Dulles Rule Out Quick Solution To End Cold War

President And Secretary Of State Give No Bright Picture Of Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles strongly indicated Tuesday that in trying to find ways to live with Russia in this hydrogen bomb age they have so far produced more questions than answers.

A speech Eisenhower made in Atlantic City and news conference statements by Dulles here gave anything but a bright and rosy picture of the future.

They added up to saying that without some co-operation from the Kremlin—some acts of good will—it is extremely difficult if not impossible to see a way out of the world's present peril.

And they ruled out in effect the possibility of discovering any formula for a quick and easy solution—a sweeping non-aggression pact that would end the cold war—because, in the President's words, Russia seeks "world domination" and the free world is determined to "preserve its freedom."

TWO LINES OF ACTION

For the long future, neither the President nor his secretary of state was markedly pessimistic. But the President, who dealt with Russian relations in very broad strokes in his speech, did not indicate how it could be brought about that two capitals now so widely split as Washington and Moscow would one day join in converting their atomic arsenals into peaceful power plants.

Two general lines of action which the President specified stood out in this connection, however. The United States and its Allies, he said, "must build, maintain and pay for a military

Those Incomparable Yanks

The shouting is over. There is gloom in Brooklyn, joy in Gotham. Those incomparable Yanks have won the fifth straight world's championship in baseball—something that never has happened before and may never happen again. The Yanks did it with apparent ease simply by running over all opposition. And under the management of the irrepressible Casey Stengel and a treasure house of outstanding baseball material, it does not appear at this time that there is anyone capable of standing in their path. For any baseball fan nursing the hope of seeing the end of the dynasty, there does not appear to be even a ghost of a chance to cry:

"The king is dead . . ."

But during these World Series, there was an interesting sidelight on gay, beautiful and sentimental America. We suspect that in the crowded highways and byways of big America, there were more baseball fans pulling for Brooklyn to win this one than ever before in history. It was not that they do not like the Yanks. They recognize perfection when they see it. But it was an old story, a story of perfection that is beginning to lose its flavor, and that deeply rooted tradition in America of sympathy for the underdog.

It cannot be said that the rule of the Yanks has been bad for baseball financially. This present World Series was a fat one in the clicking of the turnstiles. In a six-day period, each Yankee picked up somewhere around $9,000 for a week's work. The losing Dodgers each pocketed an approximate $6,000.

Who would be bold enough to deny that nothing succeeds like success? And who can ignore, admitting that baseball is a great game, that it is becoming more and more a big business?

Victory For Martin

State GOP Chairman Dave Martin of Kearney comes up with a substantial victory without too much effort to abolish Nebraska's unicameral Legislature and to substitute in its place the old two-house or bicameral Legislature elected on a partisan basis.

At a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee in Fremont Monday, after a two-hour closed session Mr. Martin emerged with an endorsement by the Republican state organization of the work of a bipartisan legislative committee, headed up by Mr. Martin himself and other bigwigs in the two political parties, to return to the bicameral type of Legislature. It will be of most substantial aid to the politicians in procuring the requisite number of signers for the petitions to submit the proposal at a state-wide election. The party organization can be enlisted to secure the required number of signers. While the Democratic Party organization apparently has not yet taken action by the state central committee to follow in the footsteps of their Republican brethren, there is the possibility the Democrats will be expected to follow suit.

There would be something somewhat removed from the orthodox American political field. Two political parties, historically at each other's throats discover sweet companionship within the circles of party organization in reviving partisanship in legislative matters.

Mr. Martin's initial success may taste sweeter at this time than it actually turns out to be. It is up to the people of Nebraska. They must vote before anything happens. And we doubt that the great majority of Nebraskans are so determined to do away with the Nebraska unicameral Legislature as the party bigwigs.

On Monday his newspaper published the results of a questionnaire sent to all the members of the Nebraska Unicameral presently serving in it.

With replies in from all but 13 of the 43 members—in short, with answers from 30—28 of the present members of the Nebraska Unicameral, Republicans and Democrats alike, but for the most part Republicans, expressed opposition to a return to the old bicameral Legislature. "State government is a business and should be operated as such without political interference," wrote Sen. Charles Tvrdik of Omaha, one of the legislative veterans who served a term in the two-house Legislature. "The proposal for a bicameral would skyrocket costs from the present approximate $150,000 a session to at least $500,000," another legislative veteran, Sen. Harry Pizer of North Platte, wrote on his questionnaire. Sen. Pizer has served 12 years in the Unicameral and two years as a member of the bicameral Legislature. "My greatest objection to the bicameral," Sen. Pizer added, "was the conference committee. A member had a small choice but to follow the dictates of this small group." Sen. Pizer, just back from a meeting of the Legislative Service League, declared that the reason many states have not offered the unicameral plan to their citizens is that there is no provision for placing it on the ballot except by politically controlled legislative action.

Both Sen. Pizer and Sen. Tvrdik have said a mouthful.

The battle opens. Let there be full, frank discussion for the enlightenment of the voters.

Of Men And Things

There was a disturbing, distressing announcement of vital concern to rural peoples out of Washington Monday night. Members of a Senate appropriations sub-committee let it be known that among reorganization plans for the Department of Agriculture is a decision to abolish the seven regional Soil Conservation Service offices, including the one in Lincoln.

The proposal can be made to look good on the basis of turning back greater responsibilities to the 48 states. That is the garb in which it is presented. The proposed elimination of regional offices would leave each of the 48 states and the three territories—Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico—each with its own soil conservation office, to report directly to Washington instead of to the regional office. Without full understanding of the part played by the regional offices and the responsibilities that they have been handling, the roadblock in a practical, effective program of soil conservation may be overlooked by the public. It is from the regional office that technical services in the field are supplied. In the case of Lincoln, which has one of the seven regional offices, something more than 166 employees representing a substantial annual payroll in excess of three-quarters of a million dollars, is involved. We recognize that the answer to any scream in this column will be brushed aside as a gripe over the loss of a payroll.

We know of no American community that welcomes the loss of payrolls. If that was all that was involved, however, the proposed reorganization plan contains nothing to raise one's blood pressure. For 20 years now American rural life has been enriched by a number of far-sighted, sound developments. One has been the broad, all-important program of rebuilding America's soil. That concerns the Soil Conservation Service and its activities. There is basis for the conclusion that under the present administration, it (the soil conservation program) is being dismantled.

We are spending billions annually for national defense. About 80 cents out of every tax dollar goes to discharge the burdens arising from wars which have been fought or to contribute to future national security. The appropriations for the ordinary purposes of government must be pared. The money to energize and step up such a sound, long-range undertaking as the expansion of acceptable soil conservation practices must be pared and cut "to the bone." The funds for a program of support of farm commodities on the basis of 90 per cent of parity are under fire—surprisingly by the present head of the Department of Agriculture. Turn it back to the states. Place it in the hands of the local communities where, we are told, it belongs. It sounds good. It fits in with that little pet hypocrisy that has been so common in recent years of condemning spending on the federal level—spending on a basis which if the truth is to be known states and local communities will not undertake. Actually the job to be done is too big, too far-reaching for them to undertake.

The reorganization plan must win congressional approval. Nothing yet has put in an appearance to suggest that Congress will refuse to lie down and roll over. Too many members, Republicans and Democrats alike, are so dazzled by the Eisenhower popularity that they are afraid to say a word no matter how deeply some of these developments taking shape in Washington raise doubts in their minds. There is nothing out on these farm people of the farm states, without anybody apparently recognizing the full threat to established soil practices when for granted but nevertheless constituting one of the brightest chapters of the story of American soil life.

Party Paradox

A few months ago, before the restoration of the national Republican administration, the cattle industry demanded an end to price supports and government bossing. It yearned for freedom.

Recently in many quarters and the other day in Denver, representatives of the industry confronted Agriculture Secretary Benson with an urgent plea to restore the 90 per cent parity on cattle lest the industry collapse. It is an odd paradox and must give the Republican Party many pensive moments. In it one may find the question of Republican longevity.

Overlooked, seemingly, is the fact that the Republican Party represents principles which are at odds with those followed by the Democratic Party. What the Republican-professing cattlemen want is a Republican application of a Democratic principle. Almost a quarter of a century of adjustment to the Democratic applications has developed a habit of life that talks Republican but acts otherwise. It does not mean that the GOP has lost its position. But it does indicate that the party is not going to be very successful until its membership becomes Republican in deeds as well as words.

Well Boxed In

In England, the other day, they caught Lord Glenorchy trying to hook 25 pennies out of a public pay coin box. Between high taxes and an alert police life doesn't hold much for the nobility any more.

DREW PEARSON Humphrey Eyes Military In Hunt For Tax Relief

WASHINGTON—The most steadfast economist in the Eisenhower Cabinet continues to be the man like leans on most heavily for advice—Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. And Humphrey continues to argue that the economy can come only from slicing large, generous hunks from the military budget.

His views, revealed in a secret conference on the budget, give important insight into the kind of advice the President is getting from his most trusted adviser.

"Mr. Dodge and I have appeared before the new Joint Chiefs of Staff," Secretary Humphrey told a secret meeting of the Senate Finance Committee. "We have said, and I honestly believe, that there is no way a sufficient reduction in these (defense) expenditures can possibly be made by just cutting off fat, or just going along and firing a stenographer there or a clerk here. The only way in the world where there is going to be anything accomplished is by a revision of these plans."

"As I said in talking to Charlie Wilson, the day has gone by when we can put a little more chromium on a lamp or a bumper and get by with it. What we have to have is a brand new Chevrolet that will do twice as much and cost half as much."

"How about a Ford?" piped up Oklahoma's Democratic Sen. Bob Kerr.

"All right, a Ford," agreed Secretary Humphrey. "It happened to be Charlie was talking to, and I thought he might be more interested in a Chevrolet."

"Having your new Chiefs of Staff, they will be able to carry out the policies of the President in full harmony," observed Chairman Gene Millikin, Colorado Republican.

"They have been so instructed," spoke up Budget Director Dodge.

"Might I inject this?" broke in Sen. Ed Martin, Pennsylvania Republican. "I have been a military man all my life, and I have advocated large appropriations for the defense side, but I am more fearful of internal financial collapse, as you mentioned a moment ago, than I am of outward aggression."

The closed-door meeting started heating up when Secretary Humphrey and Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, both loud economy advocates, clashed. Byrd wanted to know about the $81,000,000,000 in unexpended balances that the government owes. Humphrey explained that the money was already committed, and the government couldn't get out of paying it.

"It's like the man who sends his wife out to furnish his house and supply all his goods, all on the basis of C.O.D.," the Secretary of the Treasury argued. "As these goods begin to be delivered, these C.O.D. items begin to come in, all those things which were bought months before, and he has to dig down in his pocket and pay those C.O.D.s."

However, Byrd wasn't satisfied. He demanded that the President impound the money and stop payment.

"If the situation is as serious as you say, I think the President of the United States is the only man who can control it," Byrd asserted. "In my opinion, he has to step in here and do it. He can withhold these expenditures. He can impound them. He can do as Mr. Dodge knows, he can stop the payment of money, and that is what you have to do now until we straighten out this fiscal situation so somebody can understand it."

"Well, senator, I hate to disagree with you on that," objected Humphrey, "but it just seems to me that when you say the President can stop the payment of the money, that is not a practical thing."

"Then you see no possibility of reducing expenditures from the present level?" demanded Byrd.

"Now wait a minute!" snapped Humphrey. "I didn't say that!"

"Wait a minute! Let me finish!" bristled the Virginia senator. "Under the Eisenhower budget, you are going to spend this year exactly the same as Mr. Truman spent under the Truman budget last year."

"That is right," acknowledged Humphrey, smiling down.

"How are you going to get these cuts made and get reductions?" Byrd flashed.

"We are going to get them made. We have started already," promised the Secretary of the Treasury. He went on to explain that future appropriations had been cut $13,000,000,000 and that ex-President Truman's estimate of expenditures had been whittled down.

"You will spend the same money you spent last year," interrupted Byrd. "I have your figures right here that you gave me. You are going to spend $74,000,000,000 this year, and you spent $74,000,000,000 last year."

"What I pay attention to is what was actually expended. I don't judge by some erroneous estimate Mr. Truman made, or somebody else made."

"There isn't anybody in God's world who can come in here and cancel orders that have been standing for two or three years," shot back Humphrey. Later he reassured Byrd: "We may not be heavy enough to hold the lid down, but you have both Mr. Dodge and me sitting on it."

The treasury secretary also revealed that he expects further tax reductions, even after the excess-profits tax dies and income taxes are reduced at the end of this year.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Matthews Will Defend Charge Against Clergy

WASHINGTON—The House un-American Activities Committee has set a tentative date for another hearing in one of the hottest controversies that that stormy committee has ever touched off. In mid-November J. B. Matthews will be given an opportunity to testify on the charge he made in a magazine article that Protestant clergymen composed the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States today.

Chairman Harold Velde started the row when he remarked that the committee might find it worthwhile to look into Communist infiltration in the churches. This brought a sharp challenge from G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist Church. Thereupon a committee member, Rep. Donald Jackson, (R-Calif.), accused the bishop of serving God on Sundays and Communist fronts the other six days.

In a 10-hour hearing Bishop Oxnam answered point by point the allegations made against him in the committee's files. It was a remarkable performance and even hostile members were impressed by the way the bishop marshalled his facts to show either that he had not belonged to certain organizations at all or that he had participated in wartime, when Soviet Russia was an ally, along with leaders in the government.

Just as the Protestant controversy broke, Sen. Joseph McCarthy named Matthews director of his investigating committee. Then a few days later the magazine article came to public notice. It fanned the flames of a dispute with ominous overtones of hate, smear and bigotry.

Such conservative southern senators as John McClellan of Arkansas and Harry Byrd of Virginia were aroused by Matthews' statement that at least 7,000 Protestants were "party members, fellow-travelers, espionage agents, party-line adherents and unwitting dupes." Byrd obtained a statement from J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, saying he knew of no clergymen who was either a party member or an espionage agent.

Asked on a recent television program if he could under oath name Protestant clergymen in those two categories, Matthews said no. This left fellow-travelers, party-line adherents and unwitting dupes all vague.

Ever since Velde promised Matthews a chance to testify, some members of the Democratic minority on the committee have been nervous. They fear that the chairman will simply feed the witness the appropriate questions without challenging any of his sweeping statements. At a recent one-man committee hearing in New York the testimony of former Communists, all of whom had left the party years before, was relied upon for the statement that 600 clergymen had been Communist party members. Neither names nor documentation were offered in substantiation.

But as committee members well know, there is evidence of mounting action against such sweeping accusations made without any offer of proof. A survey of editorial opinion following the Oxnam hearing showed that about 80 per cent favored the bishop.

Sen. McClellan led a walkout of the Democratic members of the McCarthy committee. But it is doubtful that the Democrats on the un-American Activities group could agree since Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania usually sides with Velde.

Matthews, with his extensive files on Communist infiltration in New York, is reported to be doing intensive research in preparation for his appearance. Similarly within church groups researchers are digging into the Matthews record.

He has, of course, himself written a large part of that record in two extraordinary books. One was "Partners in Plunder," which accuses the churches and the schools of being hirelings of capitalism and greedy profiteering. In his message, Matthews implies that J. P. Morgan controlled the Episcopal Church, Andrew W. Mellon the Presbyterian Church and the Rockefeller the Baptist Church.

Four years later in his "Odyssey of a Fellow Traveler," he had reversed his form. The insinuation was that the churches and the schools were being lined up on the side of radicalism and even Communism. In that same book the author discussed his own Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde personality. The socialist and revolutionary was Mr. Hyde, the reformed character Jekyll.

"When I now assert," said Matthews, "that Mr. Hyde of the Marxist revolution died that inner personal conflict, it is not, I hope, with any claim to ethical uniqueness. It was simply that deeper personal satisfactions or more preferred pleasures arbitrated the issue in favor of Dr. Jekyll's mode of life."

The un-American Activities Committee has produced many dramas. But that billing just ahead looks equal to anything that has played before.

Values Of A Liberal Education Liberal Education For The Farmer

By DR. CECIL T. BLUNN
Associate Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Nebraska
(Fifth of a series)

DR. BLUNN

It seems to me that farmers need two types of education. Both types should be liberal and they should form an integrated whole. Farmers need a vocational education, for they are businessmen and their business is very complex. They are faced with physical and climatic hazards that do not confront other businessmen. They must not only know how to grow crops and animals, but must also know how to market their produce. In addition, they need a cultural education if they are to be leaders in their community.

In our universities we recognize two kinds of education. At one end of the scale is vocational and at the other end is cultural education. Today most of our college curriculums tend more toward the vocational side than toward the cultural side. This shift in emphasis is widespread and is not limited to any one college. It has come about with the cheapening of the baccalaureate degree over the past 25 or 30 years.

Today the bachelor's degree is no longer the mark of an educated man.

Between the two extremes of vocational and cultural education all gradations exist. Liberal education falls in this middle region. I have been unable to formulate a one-sentence definition of liberal education, but I think I can show what it means to me. Of course, we are in the realm of personal opinion and hence on controversial ground with little chance of reaching agreement on even a workable definition. To me liberal education is not static, but its major emphasis will shift depending on the field of work of the individual.

If the farmer, or chemist, or teacher, or writer, or mechanic is going to be content to be a mere resident of his community, then a vocational education will suffice to meet his needs. That is, a vocational education will enable a person to work and earn enough to take care of his physical needs. The physical man needs relatively little if he merely wants to exist. If the farmer, or chemist, or teacher, or writer, or mechanic is going to derive much enjoyment from his work, he should know more than the mere mechanics of the business of making a living.

I grew up under the philosophy that farmers should receive the best scientific training it was possible to obtain. If they have the basic scientific knowledge, the practical applications will follow more or less automatically. That is why I believe our agricultural students should have more chemistry, mathematics, zoology, botany and physiology.

These are scientific subjects which will not necessarily make for a more cultured man, but they will give more understanding and insight into the everyday business of living and should be considered part of a liberal education. These subjects will, if properly taught, give the student knowledge so that he can solve many of the practical questions which arise in his everyday work. He will be better able to think and he will have a clearer idea of how to obtain help when needed.

I believe that in spite of the modern day rush, it is possible for a student, be he embryo farmer or what you will, to receive a liberal education. He will not necessarily receive a cultural (in the classic sense of the word) education. I feel that any courses that lead to increased knowledge and greater enjoyment in living are part of a liberal education.

If the farmer, or chemist, or teacher, or writer, or mechanic is to be an active citizen in his community, then more than a vocational or a scientific liberal education is needed. If a person is going to play an active role and be a leader in his community, he should have some cultural education as well. He will need to know some history, both of the United States as well as of the world. He should know something about moral and ethical codes and religious beliefs and thoughts. He should know something about the different economic and political theories of the world. He should know the English language and if possible at least one other. He should know how to get along with people and he should learn to make decisions. He should be a well read man.

It is possible for a student to start on his liberal education while he is in college. The material is offered in the university but the student has to put forth an effort to get it. I believe that courses beyond the freshman level are needed. Too many freshmen courses try to "cover the waterfront" and succeed mainly in being dull and confusing.

I believe that a liberal education is needed by everyone and that it should combine both vocational and cultural material. If a man wants such an education, he will have to continue to study and grow after he leaves the university. His formal training will cease at that time, and any further growth will be the result of his own initiative. If a student will learn to read while in college and will continue to read after he graduates, he will eventually become an educated man in the full sense of the word.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Voice Of The People

Tobias, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When the people have no opportunity to select judges of the Supreme Court, then in reality they have no voice of any consequence in the affairs of their government. It also appears to me that the 4-to-5 decisions of this court are often on questions upon which honest and intelligent men do not differ.

When a politician is appointed supreme judge and a halo is put over his head, it merely gives the people a glamorous view. A good horse trader in a national political convention will likely not hesitate to swap horses while crossing a stream. The remedy is to have one judge elected by the people from each state of the Union to serve for a term of six years.

Vox populi vox Dei.

M. O. DELT

A Cheap 'Holler'

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When any man, a public official or otherwise, talks about taking the old folks on assistance rolls away from nursing homes and putting them into county "hospitals" as an act of economy and tax-saving, I want to look at his bristles. Two pounds of porthouse a year from his table is all that he is contributing unless he is a cigarette smoker and liquor consumer and in either instance, he hasn't a single humanitarian principle about it. Why? Because no "hospital" created to the end of saving dollars brings to the aged the human and sympathetic care that nursing homes give to them.

And what has become of that "free enterprise" holler, when counties enter into the private business in which nursing homes engage? Old folks not under legal restraint at the hands of courts are still free American citizens. They can come and go as they please.

It is agreed that there are those who because of conditions will be better cared for in county hospitals than subject to direct relief administration. But they are not on assistance rolls. If economy in government is the great consideration, then let us look at the salary boosting that is taking place in both state and county government. It's the cheapest of hollers—this one about reducing the cost of providing for the aged fathers and mothers of this state.

BUSINESS LESSON
In business, whether large or small.
Accounts are kept of loss and gain.
Whenever sales begin to fall,
The reason, salesmen must explain.

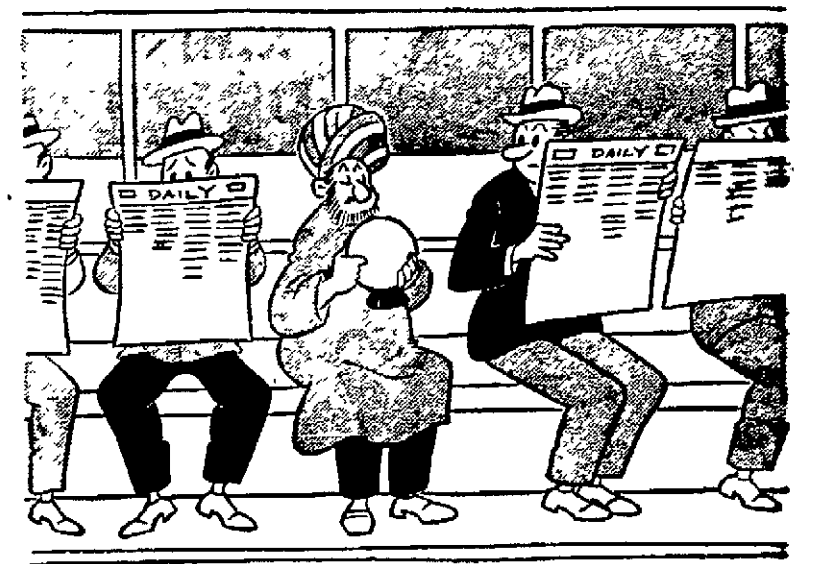

The men in charge inquire:
"What's wrong?"
Have we decided now to rest
And grown content to drift
Along?
Is what we make no longer
Best?"

In business this is wise to do,
Since only what is best Survives.
Then should we not, at times,
review
The failures in our private lives?

Men check the goods upon their shelves
Because such strict accounting pays.
Then why not also check
ourselves
And strive to change our careless ways?

FBI Nabs Seven Second-String Alleged Communists

CLEVELAND (AP) — The FBI Tuesday arrested seven alleged Communist officials it described as leaders and former leaders of the party's activities in Ohio.

The arrests, on charges of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government, were made in Cleveland, Lorain and Steubenville, Ohio; Newark, N. J.; and New York City. The Justice Department also placed a detainer against an eighth alleged Red official, now in the Ohio Penitentiary for fictitious auto registration.

A Justice Department announcement said the arrests were part of a drive to round up "second-string" Communist officials for prosecution similar to that which brought prison terms for the 11 top leaders of the party in 1949. Starting with the arrest of that 11 in 1949, a total of 99 party officials have been arrested or detained.

The FBI gave these descriptions of the persons arrested yesterday:

Elvador Claud Greenfield, 63, write-in candidate for Ohio governor on the Communist ticket in 1952, arrested at a Cleveland rooming house; David Katz, former treasurer of the Communist Political Association of Ohio, picked up while driving a bakery truck in downtown Cleveland; his wife, Freida Zucker Katz, 41, one-time organizational secretary for the party in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, arrested at her home here; Lucille Bethencourt, 28, a leader of Communist activities in the Lorain, Ohio, area since 1949, taken into custody at her home near there.

Joseph Michael Dougher, 56, alias Joseph Michael Walsh, active in Communist affairs in Ohio and Pennsylvania and former member of the party's national committee, arrested at a Steubenville, Ohio, rooming house; Joseph Brandt, 43, former organizational secretary for the party in Ohio, apprehended in Newark, N. J., on his way to work; and Robert Alfred Campbell, 41, former educational director of the party in Ohio and currently active in Communist activities in the New York City area, picked up on his way to work.

The hold order at the Ohio State Penitentiary was against Frank Hashmall, 34, serving 1-10 years on the fictitious car registration charge. He was described as former chairman of the Hamilton County, Ohio, Communist chapter and former executive secretary of the Franklin County, Ohio, chapter.

Unicam Supplies Leaders—Carmody

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The non-partisan unicameral Legislature has been criticized by officers of the two political parties, who seek more power through a return to a partisan bi-cameral body, for lack of leadership in the smaller body. Sen. Arthur Carmody, Trenton, who has served 14 years in the unicameral and two years in the House of the old Bi-cameral, answers this argument in stating his opposition to stepping backward to the old plan.

"There is more leadership in the Unicameral than in any political party in Nebraska, if genuine interest for the people of this state and their welfare is any criterion," Sen. Carmody says.

Governor Candidates
He pointed out that the Unicameral furnished both candidates for governor in the Republican primary in 1952.

It furnished the Democratic nominee for the last four elections, Walter Raelke twice and Frank Sorrel twice. It has supplied two lieutenant governors, Robert Crosby in 1947 and Charles Warner from 1949 to date.

"Why do both parties turn to the Unicameral if there is no leadership there?" Sen. Carmody asks. "Where are the leaders the parties claim to have?"

As Directors
He goes on to point out that two state directors of agriculture, Rufus Howard, speaker in 1941, and Ed Hoyt, speaker in 1951, were selected from the Unicameral.

Fred Seaton, assistant secretary of defense, served in the Unicameral in 1945 and 1947. Representative A. L. Miller received his legislative training before going to Congress serving in the 1937-39 Unicameral.

John E. Mekota, Crete, after eight years in the unicameral became the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator.

'People Would Lose'
The veteran Trenton lawmaker says that he believes the people "would lose by returning to the two party system at this time."

"The members of the Unicameral represent the people and are answerable to them—not to the heads of any political party," he explains.

Sen. Carmody points out that the Unicameral deals with problems as they arise, "with actualities not with platitudes."

He points out that it takes 26 of the non-political votes to pass legislation over the veto of a governor elected on a political platform. "By this method, a party has through their governor power to nullify the votes of 25 legislators elected on a non-political ballot," he continues.

"To me this seems to be all the 'check and balance' required. What would any political party want more power for?"

"The political parties could be helpful to the Unicameral by offering suggestions. Instead they be-little because they cannot have absolute control. They sometimes forget that the members of the Unicameral are also members of both political parties."

Sen. Carmody said that more than 30 members of the present Legislature are affiliated with the Republican party and that "with their experience gained in government might be helpful to the party in Nebraska."

He continued, "They might again provide the leadership that seems to be lacking at times." Sen. Carmody said the Unicameral and the two parties can work together for the good of all, "if the parties will only realize it."

County Office Pay Hikes Approved After 'Hearing'

No one showed up at Tuesday's public hearing on new salaries for nine Lancaster County elective offices for the term beginning January, 1955, and the Board of Commissioners adopted a previously-set tentative schedule as official.

The new salaries are $2,000 higher for all offices, except that of county treasurer which was increased by $2,500.

Yearly salaries of $6,500 were adopted for four offices: County attorney, engineer, superintendent of schools, and treasurer.

'Not Salary Hikes'

Five office heads will receive $6,000 a year: Register of deeds, assessor, District Court clerk, county clerk, and sheriff. (The sheriff's salary includes $540 as jailor fee.)

The new salary schedule was unanimously adopted upon motion of Commissioner Chauncey E. Barney, who said:

"These are not salary increases (as such) . . . but represent the board's judgment as to the amount necessary to insure the services of qualified persons in county offices during the forthcoming term. Comparable duties in both private and other governmental subdivisions are in excess of this amount."

Tax Exemptions Made

Following a hearing on the off-sale beer license application of Alvin H. (Pat) Davis of 4826 Knox, the board deferred decision.

Two properties used for religious purposes were removed from the county tax rolls.

They were a nine-lot tract used for St. David's Episcopal Church near 64th and Judson and 2½ lots used for a church and parsonage by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod at 22nd and Washington.

Eight Lincolinites Gain Citizenship

U.S. citizenship to 15 persons, including eight Lincoln residents, was granted in Federal District Court during final naturalization hearing.

They are:

Conrad Kehler, 1500 P. Inceburg, Steffens, 2227 So. 9th, Martha A. W. Henrich, 4720 Randolph, Margaret Irene Cole, 1120 South, Ernest James Cole, 1120 South, Theresa Ono, 2112 So. 9th, Jure Garbars, 112 G. Mirza Garbars, 112 G. Frank Schaefer, Elk Creek, Ida May Shantz, Geneva, Susan Freda Yost, Fairbury, Sophie Margarethe Dickey, Waco, John Reimer Berkman, Henderson, Rozena Mary Loukota, Milligan.

Repatriated was Clara D. L. E. Ferguson of Deshler, Neb., who lost her citizenship by marriage to a citizen of Canada. However, she has never resided outside the U.S.

State Polio Figure Way Below 1952

Polio Cases	Oct. 7	Oct. 7	Totals
	1953	1952	1952
City	16	166	191
County	18	211	229
State	202	1,735	2,252

The number of polio cases in Nebraska so far this year still is lower than the number reported in Lancaster County alone by this time last year.

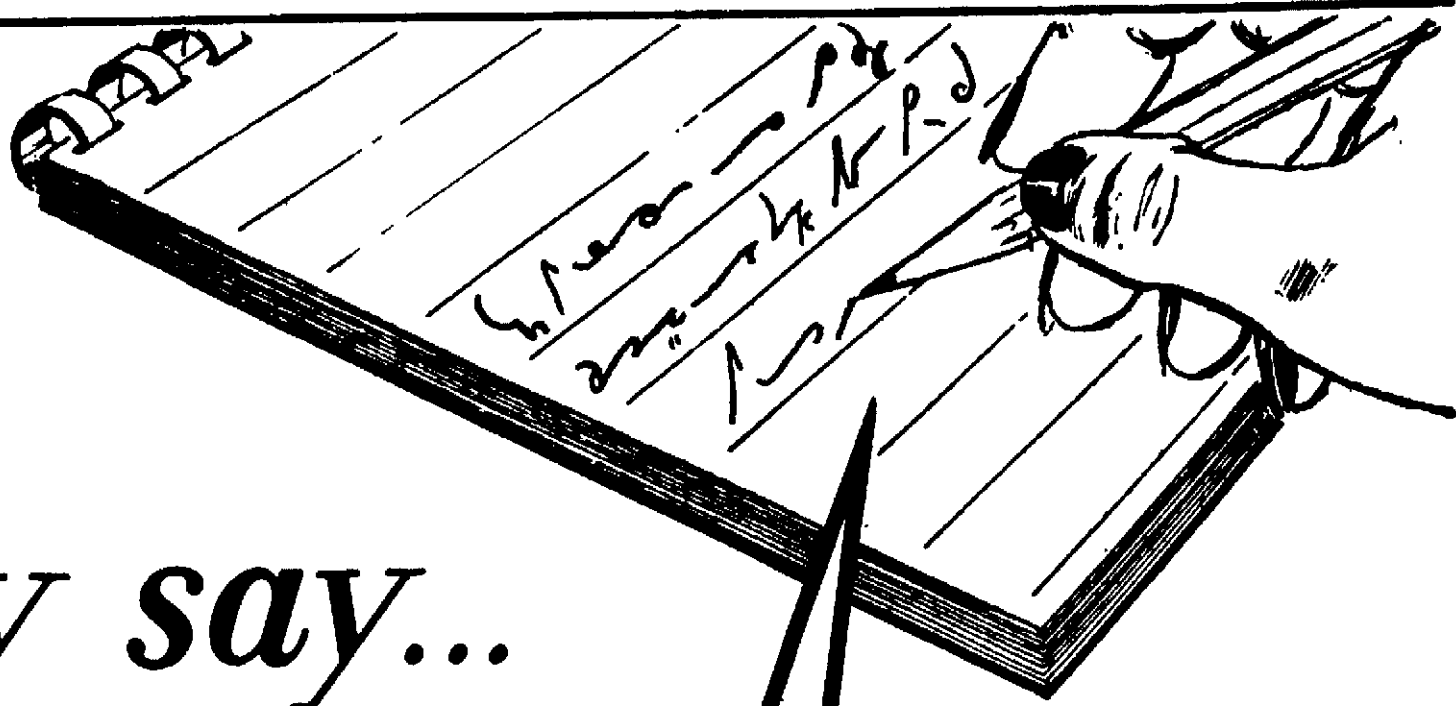

Bringing the state total to 202 were four widely-scattered cases reported the past week—one each in Butler, Custer, Dawson and Kimball Counties.

No new Lancaster County cases have been reported for more than a month.

All local and outstate patients who were hospitalized in Lincoln have been dismissed.

Four Utilities To Design Atomic Power Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four big electric utilities and an engineering firm joined forces Tuesday to pick a design for an atomic power plant.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced its approval of the new study, which it said will be financed entirely by the companies. They are to report all their findings and recommendations to the commission.

The commission announcement said the group's initial objective "is to select a design of a reactor intended primarily for the production of electric power within the near future, and to make a preliminary economic appraisal of such a design."

No Significance

A spokesman said, however, he saw no significance in use of the phrase "within the near future." He referred a questioner to testimony before a congressional committee during the summer that at least 10 years would be required to bring the cost of producing atomic power down to that of more conventional methods.

Joining in the study are American Gas and Electric Service Corp., New York City; Commonwealth Edison Co., Chicago; Pacific Gas and Electric Co., San Francisco; Union Electric Co., St. Louis; and the Bechtel Corp., an engineering and construction company with headquarters in San Francisco.

Four of the five companies, AEC said, have participated in previous nuclear power studies during the last two years. It noted that four utilities own electric and generating capacity of more than 10½ million kilowatts, and have combined annual sales exceeding 48½ billion kilowatt hours.

A number of studies by private power companies now are under way.

There's Always A Lift In News

THIS IS THE morning with a lift—an especially nice morning with plenty of news—and that we like. We also like to announce wedding dates — and we have one of those in our little red book. We like news of football game festivities—and we have a bit of that—in fact we like everything we have so we may as well just go ahead and tell everything we know.

OUR SPECIAL lift this aym comes in the way of a wedding date—Miss Jane Ann Calhoun, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. V. Calhoun, tells us that her marriage to Walt Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver, will be an event of Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 29.

The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock and the ceremony which will be solemnized at St. Matthews Church, will be followed by a reception at the Lincoln Country Club.

IN THE mail on Tuesday were invitations for an 11:30 o'clock luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club for which

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Swingle will be host and hostess on Saturday, Oct. 17, when they entertain preceding the Miami-Nebraska game.

UNDERSTAND that the Patriarchs will be having their first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, at the Lincoln Country Club. The group, as usual, will meet for dinner—but this particular dinner will be something special because the Patriarchs will be celebrating the 65th birthday anniversary of the organization.

Serving as the Patriarchs official staff this season will be Mrs. Harold P. Stebbins, president; Mrs. James P. Edee (Sheila Grainger) vice-president, and J. Taylor Greer, secretary-treasurer.

TOMORROW will find Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walt, Jr., on their way to New York City where Mr. Walt has accepted a position with a well known firm of TV representatives—Mr. and Mrs. Walt already have an apartment awaiting their arrival—the Ridgicroft, Tarrytown - on - the - Hudson, N.Y.

Incidentally — it's interesting to know that Mr. and Mrs. Walt and Mr. and Mrs. Honer Allen Yates, Jr. (Jane Truphagen), will be apartment house neighbors.

THE SAFARI club members will be dining and dancing at Corner Terrace on Saturday evening—the dancing club's first party of the season. We hear that "Star Dust" is the party motif, and that the committee in charge of all of the planning includes Mr. and Mrs. John Tidball and Mr. and Mrs. Rudge Vifquain.

JUST HEARD that Dr. and Mrs. William Wilson of Denver are arriving today for a visit with Dr. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Claude S. Wilson—Early next week Dr. and Mrs. Wilson will go to Rochester, Minn., for a several days visit with old friends there—and after that—Chicago—where Dr. Wilson will attend a meeting of the Academy of Orthology.

THIS IS a particularly busy week for one of our October brides—Miss Barbara Weishel—who is to marry John L. Saylor of Evanston, Ill., on Saturday, Oct. 17.

Today Miss Weishel will be an honoree when Mrs. John D. Phillips, Mrs. A. C. Burns, and Mrs. Max Kier will be luncheon hostesses at the Lincoln Country Club. Following the luncheon, for which places will be arranged for 12, Miss Weishel will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

THE SATURDAY party for Miss Weishel will have as hostesses Mrs. Fred Davie and her sister, Mrs. Ray Kubie of Humphrey (the former Ann-ette Carnahan) who have invited guests for a 1 o'clock mother-daughter luncheon at the home of Mrs. Davie.

THEN COMES Sunday—and two parties for Miss Weishel —The first is a 10:30 o'clock coffee at Colonial Cup, and the hostesses for the coffee and the one-gift shower will be Mrs. Jerry Mapes, and Mrs. Curtis Weatherhogg of Omaha.

IT'S STILL a few weeks until Thanksgiving—but that doesn't keep us from telling you that we heard Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Foot of Red Wing, Minn., would spend Thanksgiving in Lincoln—the guests of Mrs. Foot's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joyce.

Nebraskan's Painting Shown

Norman Geske, acting director of the University of Nebraska art galleries at Morrill Hall, is pictured with Miss Carol Haerer of North Platte, a senior art student, as he examines one of the prize-winning paintings of the General Federation of Women's Clubs art talent contest for high school students.

The painting, "Meeting The Deadline," was made by Diana Rhodes of Blair, and was awarded third place in the national contest which each year is conducted by the General Federation in co-operation with the makers of Hallmark Cards.

Miss Rhodes' painting also won first place in the Nebraska Federation state art contest last spring, and in addition to a $400 scholarship presented by the General Federation, the young artist was awarded an art scholarship to

All-State Fine Arts Festival last summer.

Also on exhibit this week will be other prize-winning paintings: "Freedom," by Kenneth Kunesas of Springfield, Vt.; and "Cotton Pickers," by Edna Lee, Cleveland, Miss.

To Honor Pledges

The members of the alumnae chapter of Gamma Phi Beta sorority will honor the pledges of the active chapter when they entertain at an 11 o'clock brunch on Sunday morning at Hotel Cornhusker. In addition to the pledge class of 35, honored guests will include Miss Pat Lindgren, pledge trainer; Miss Shirley Hamilton, president of the active chapter, and Mrs. Marie Coddington, Gamma Phi Beta house mother.

Mrs. Rudy Bauer is president of the alumnae chapter of the sorority, and co-chairmen of the decorations committee for the brunch are Mrs. Emmett Gillaspie and Mrs. Max Hayward.

The Brides' Book Says:

Invitations have been issued by Miss Alice Mathiesen and Miss Jeannette Mathiesen for a party next Tuesday evening when a late October bride, Miss Loretta Bullock, whose marriage to Darrel Stotts will take place on Oct. 24, will be complimented. Following an informal evening the soon-to-be-bride will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

But before Oct. 24, comes Saturday, Oct. 10—the wedding day of Miss Ann Kaminski and Joseph Kalina whose marriage will be solemnized at 10 o'clock in the morning at Sacred Heart church. And attending the wedding will be the following out of town guests:

ATO Alliance Plans Meeting

The mothers of the new pledges will be special guests at a 1 o'clock luncheon when the members of the Alpha Tau Omega Alliance entertain on Friday at the chapter house.

In charge of arrangements and reservations are Mrs. Ed Weir, chairman, Mrs. Jay Rihnour, Mrs. Glenn Johnson, Mrs. Orrin Curtis, Mrs. Jay Sinclair, and Mrs. A. A. Tanner.

Event Marks Start Of Natural Gas Service

Mayor At Syracuse Sets Torch

SYRACUSE, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—More than 600 persons attended ceremonies here Tuesday night marking the beginning of natural gas service to Syracuse.

Mayor C. L. Strong turned the switch, lighting a 15-foot high torch symbolizing the event. Representatives of the Nebraska City Utilities, the firm which owns the Syracuse plant, were also present.

The Syracuse High School Band provided music for the occasion. Free coffee and doughnuts were given to the persons attending by restaurant owner Frank Wills and baker Ed Gohber.

According to engineers, the $100,000 plant in Syracuse is one of the most modern in the nation. Mayor Strong said the topography of the area was responsible for the efficient construction.

Syracuse residents have been working for the past 10 years, when the first franchise was granted, to obtain natural gas for the city.

Dobson Brothers of Lincoln was contracting firm.

Two Car-Train Crash Victims Still Serious

FAIRBURY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Hospital authorities here late Tuesday reported all six of the young persons injured in a car-train accident near here improving.

Dean Sklenicka, 26, of Belleville, Kan., owner and driver of the car and one of the two most seriously injured, is semi-conscious. He suffered a severe head injury, but the full extent of his injuries has not been determined.

Although she is still in very serious condition, Deloris Meyerhoff, 18, of Hollenberg, Kan., is no longer critical, her physician reported. She suffered a very severe concussion, was nearly scalped, had three badly broken ribs, a fractured pelvis, two breaks in the left thigh, and a crushed ankle. Her doctor said she may lose her right foot, which was caught under the seat, held fast by the engine and seat.

She apparently took the brunt of the crash as the car struck the side of a freight car.

Jim Rhoden of Fairbury, another passenger in the car, was released from the hospital Tuesday. Three others injured were Ormal Maple of Fairbury, Velda Willeford of Hollenberg and Darlene Speth of Steele City.

Officers had to get equipment to release Miss Meyerhoff, who remained conscious but was in extreme pain.

Accidental Shot Fatal For Mittan

CHADRON, Neb. (P)—Robert Mittan, 19-year-old night desk sergeant for the Chadron Police Department, died Tuesday of gunshot wounds suffered accidentally.

Mittan and Night Patrolman Jack Dixon were engaged in friendly "horse play" when Dixon's pistol discharged, wounding Mittan in the abdomen.

Mittan was the son of A. H. Mittan of Chadron.

93-Year-Old Edgar Resident Injured

EDGAR, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Despite a dislocated right shoulder received in a fall on the walk of her home, 93-year-old Mrs. A. M. Carson was able to walk to the doctor's office one-half block away for medical care.

Living alone, Mrs. Carson has been able to do her own housework in addition to keeping her yard in perfect order. She is being cared for at the home of her son, Clyde Carson, in Grand Island.

Big Gas Well Completed On F. Kurz Farm

SIDNEY, Neb. (P)—One of the largest gas wells in Nebraska has been completed on the Frank Kurz farm in the west Sidney field.

The Kurz No. 1, which yielded good gas recovery in the both the D and J sands, has been completed for an open flow potential of 9,800,000 cubic feet per day, the Ohio Oil Co. disclosed.

The company is in the process of completing its Shaw No. 1 in the same field, which had good gas recovery in the D but was somewhat disappointing in the J section.

Tentative Date Set For Ground Breaking

SIDNEY, Neb. (P)—A tentative date of Sunday, Oct. 25, has been set for ground breaking ceremonies for the Cheyenne County Community Hospital.

Confirmation of the date depends upon the ability of the state and federal public health services to approve the low bids and authorize the awarding of official contracts.

This announcement is not to be construed as an offer to supply this rare old Kentucky bourbon whiskey in unlimited quantity or to all comers. Connoisseurs may apply to the undersigned or his authorized dealers. (We'll try not to disappoint you.)

Nebraska's FIRST Common Trust Fund

"A trust with The First Trust Company would be ideal for my family, but I'm afraid my estate is too small..."

The Common Trust Fund provides the answer, and it is with pleasure and a full recognition of the responsibility involved that we pioneer in making Common Trust Fund Service available to Nebraskans.

Trusts of any size, by thus combining part or all of their capital, obtain the broad diversification and full investment management heretofore available only to the largest individual accounts. Added protection and increased stability of income will result.

The Uniform Common Trust Fund Act adopted by Nebraska's 1933 Legislature, authorizes our common trust fund. More than three-fourths of the states have enacted similar laws. We have studied extensively the legal accounting and investment factors involved.

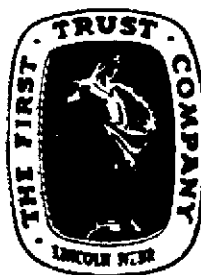

The benefits of Common Trust Fund Service have been demonstrated by the more than one hundred such funds now in successful operation by leading trust institutions from coast to coast. We are proud to join in the endeavor to make better trust service available to more people.

Our Common Trust Fund will be operated in accordance with Nebraska law and regulations. In addition it must and will comply fully with the regulations of the Federal Reserve Board. The Fund will be audited by independent public accountants and their annual reports will be available without charge to all beneficiaries of every participating trust.

The First Trust Company will continue to receive its regular compensation in each participating trust but receives no additional fees for the operation of the Common Trust Fund.

Inquiries by mail or in person are cordially invited.

Lack Of Moisture Mars Crop Outlook

The shortage of moisture takes the place of first importance in Nebraska's weekly crop picture as the drought continues to take its toll of crops.

According to the state-federal crop reporting service, surface moisture is short throughout the state. Subsoil moisture is short in all portions of the state with the exceptions of the Panhandle and a few northern counties.

"Except for a county or two in extreme southeastern Nebraska, there has been no rain in the eastern half of the state since Sept. 3," the report stated. "The Panhandle has been dry since Aug. 23 and southwestern Nebraska since Aug. 10 except for a few local showers prior to Aug. 15."

During the past week, the north central and western portions of the state received light showers but the crop reporting service added that they "were insufficient to do any good."

9% Corn Husked

Approximately 9 per cent of the state's corn crop has been husked and all areas of the state show a little husking started.

"Corn is too dry for efficient operation of mechanical corn pickers as many of the ears fall off," the service warned. High winds also caused corn to fall to the ground.

High temperatures and winds were severe on the winter wheat crop with some damage reported from the southwestern area of the state. The subsoil moisture is ample in the Panhandle and southern portion for summer fallow wheat but the surface soil is dry and moisture is "needed badly," the crop report said.

The soybean and grain sorghum harvests continue with the yields varying. The soybean crop is good but not up to last year's high yields, the service stated.

Spud Harvest On

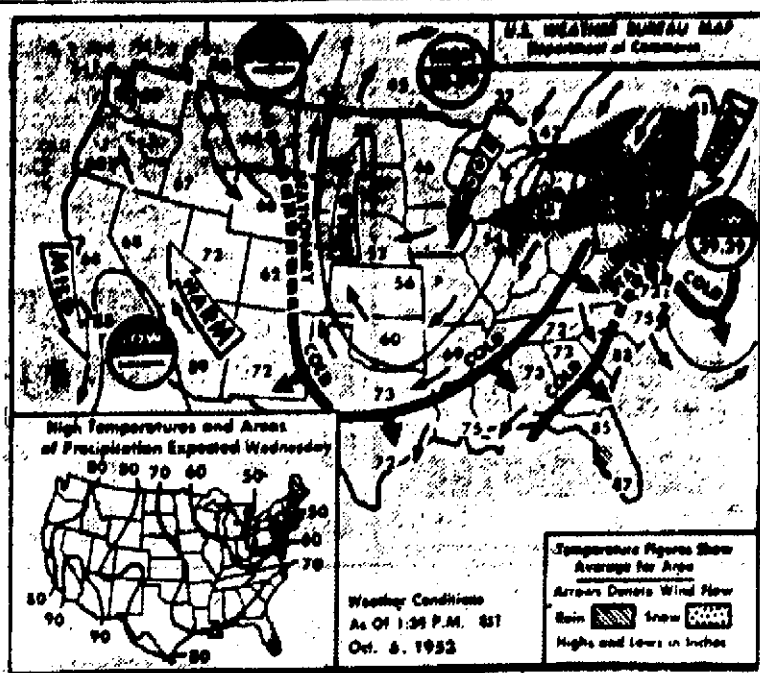

The late potato harvest in the North Platte Valley is in full swing and the dry, edible bean harvest is almost finished except for some fields, which were left because the dry weather is causing too much shattering to harvest before moisture is received. The crop service states that the sugar beets are "very promising."

Pasture is very short, particularly in the southern half of the state. Range is plentiful in the Sandhills but moisture is needed to soften up the dry, crusty range feed.

Nebraska cattle slaughter for August was up 31 per cent compared to a year ago and also for the first eight months of the year. For the nation, cattle slaughter was up 31 per cent in August and up 29 per cent for the first eight months.

Cloudy Skies, Rain Forecast

Clear to partly cloudy skies will prevail over the entire nation Wednesday except for scattered showers in the mountains of Pennsylvania and New York and in southern Florida. Some rain is forecast for Maine. Most of the eastern third of the nation will experience cool weather. A warming trend is expected in the north central half of the country. AP Wirephoto Map Tuesday Night.)

Services Pending For Genoa Editor

GENOA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral arrangements are pending for Leo Kaup, 47-year-old editor of the Genoa Leader-Times. His death followed a heart attack.

Sen. Potter Says Truce Terms Released War Criminals

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), charged Tuesday that the Korean truce terms forced the United Nations to free hundreds of Communist prisoners who should have been tried for war crimes and atrocities.

Potter, who is serving as a one-man committee to investigate Communist atrocities in Korea, made the charge after questioning Defense Department officials at a closed session.

He said Tuesday's testimony produced "shocking revelations" of Red atrocities, including one incident in which a U. S. prisoner was doused with gasoline and set afire. Potter said the captive escaped and signed a statement detailing his torture before he died.

The legless veteran of World War II told newsmen that the guilty Communists are now "beyond our reach."

He commented: "If conditions were the same as after World War II, the Communists on whom we have evidence of atrocities would have been tried as war criminals."

Potter said he would discuss the situation with Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations, and predicted Lodge will take "very decisive steps" to make the situation known to the world organization in New York.

The Michigan legislator absolved the Army of any blame for the return of the Red criminals inasmuch as a complete military victory was not attained in Korea.

Potter said he will begin public hearings about Dec. 10 and told newsmen he will seek information from Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Maj. Gen. William F. Dean on the treatment of U. S. prisoners by the Communists. Dean was recently released as a captive by the Reds.

No. 3 in Series of Prize-Winning Cranberry Recipes:

Heavenly Cranberry Dessert

Mrs. Feme Brooks of Reece, Kansas, won a prize for this superb cranberry dessert. You'll say it's the best cranberry dessert you ever sank a fork into. (This is No. 3 in a series of Prize-Winning Cranberry Recipes appearing every other Wednesday on this page. If you missed the previous two, write to Ocean Spray, Dept. N66, Hanson, Mass.)

HEAVENLY CRANBERRY DESSERT

Make a crumb mixture using:

3/4 cup finely ground toast crumbs	1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/2 cup brown sugar	1/4 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon	1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg	3 tablespoons melted butter

Blend thoroughly and press against sides and bottom of ice cube tray. Chill in freezing compartment 1 hour.

Crush with fork 1 can Ocean Spray Jellied Cranberry Sauce. Spread over crumb crust. Whip 1/2 cup whipping cream and beat in 1 3-ounce package softened cream cheese. Spread over cranberry sauce. Place in freezing compartment and freeze until firm. Slice and serve. Makes 8 servings.

P.S. Alternate Choice: Instead of using whipped cream and cream cheese for top layer, use 1/4 pint sour cream, spread over the cranberry sauce. Freeze. This also is delicious.

When you use ready-to-serve Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce in a recipe, your cooking is half done. Just open a can of cranberry sauce and go on from there.

And of course Ocean Spray, just as it comes from the can, is a delicious partner for chicken, turkey, meat or fish.

Watch this page every other Wednesday for Prize-Winning Cranberry Recipes!

WHY should you do yourself out of the big things in motoring life?

Why pass up the room and power and comfort and niceties of big-car travel—when you can buy a big, new Buick SPECIAL for just little more than the price of smaller cars?

We show our price here to prove our point—to prove that you can buy this Buick SPECIAL for just a few dollars more than you have to pay for one of the so-called "low-price three."

Just a few dollars more for a lot bigger hoodful of power—Fireball 8 power—the highest horsepower ever placed in a Buick SPECIAL.

Just a few dollars more for big and spacious 6-passenger roominess—and the solid, steady comfort of Buick's famed Million Dollar Ride.

Just a few dollars more for Buick styling, Buick handling, Buick luxury, Buick fun.

THE GREATEST BUICK

IN 50 GREAT YEARS

But do you know what else those few extra dollars get you in this big, broad, beautiful Buick?

They get you a long list of standard equipment at no extra cost that most other cars at or near its price charge you for, as extras—which makes our quoted price even lower than it looks.

We have the facts and figures to prove our points. All we need is you, at the wheel.

Drop in on us this week and see for yourself that your new-car money really buys big—in Buick.

Irish, Spartans Lead AP Poll

Notre Dame First Choice; Oklahoma Drops To 16th

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—When even ultra-conservative Coach Frank Leahy admits that his Notre Dame football is vastly improved, you wouldn't expect the nation's football experts to alter the No. 1 rating they previously had awarded The Irish.

Thus Notre Dame was the first choice of the sports writers and broadcasters in the second weekly Associated Press ranking poll of the 1953 football season, just as it had been in the pre-season poll.

Korinek Paces Husker Yards

Dennis Korinek, Ulysses junior, continued to pace the Nebraska ball-carriers after the first three games.

The 172-pound halfback has carried the ball 25 times for 178 yards and an average of 6.9 yards per game.

Bob Smith, Grand Island junior, ranks next with a 4.5 average. The three-game statistics:

Underdog Huskers Are Out To Win, Says Coach

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

"We're not going to Pittsburgh to be whipped," warned Coach Bill Glassford of the Nebraska Cornhuskers Tuesday as he sent his squad through a scrimmage on both offense and defense.

"Pittsburgh is big and tough and will be the favorite—I know that," he added, "but our boys are going out to win."

There was both good and bad news about the personnel side. Guard Don Glantz, who jammed his neck against Kansas State, was released from the student infirmary and may see action Saturday at Pittsburgh. He was kept out of the Tuesday rough stuff, however.

On the drab side, Fullback Nick Adduci, newly returned from the Army, has been slow rounding into shape and will not be taken on the Pitt trip. Nick would have been eligible to make his 1953 debut against the Panthers, but the fact that Uncle Sam released him only a week ago makes it premature.

Following a drill Thursday morning, the squad will board a train for the intersectional battle. Early odds favor Pitt by two touchdowns.

In line with his new policy to use his "11 best men," instead of employing a two-team system, Glassford said that a team would be named Wednesday.

"I will keep that one team in as long as any member doesn't show any weaknesses," he said. "Then, we will use individual substitutions."

A squad of 32 men will make the trip, Glassford announced. The only scout out Saturday will be Al Partin, who will chart Miami against Clemson.

Quarterback John Bordogna, who tore a wrist ligament at Manhattan, participated in the Tuesday scrimmage and showed no effects of the injury.

Glassford's footballers will meet the Panthers for the first time since 1942. And the game will stir a lot of old memories for the Scarlet mentor and Line Coach Walter "Mike" Mulligan, another Pitt alumnus.

Just so you'll be prepared for the big event you should know that the American hamburger celebrates its 50th anniversary in 1954. A lot of hamburgers (very few of them made with ham!) have gone under the bridge or over the bridge.

work since the first one made its historic appearance at the World's Fair in St. Louis in 1904. Whether it was the bit of the fair or not, hamburgers have set records ever since.

As food goes, the hamburger seems to rate first in the hearts of its countrymen, and maybe even first in encouraging heartburn.

especially if you're the type of gourmet who feels a hamburger is indecently exposed unless it's smothered under a mass of relishes, mustard, sauce, and assorted shrubbery. We just hope the queen of the 50th anniversary isn't called "Miss Meatball of 1954."

In France a man who disappeared for a month said he had been in his barn loft all the time because he wanted to raise a beard in private. That's saving face two ways. If your car needs to have its face saved or improved, whether it's a glossy polish or a new paint job, our mechanics can do the job right. No End Is Sighted In Yank String

NEW YORK (AP)—Who is going to beat the Yanks and Dodgers in 1954?

It looks like the same old story—again.

To the dismay of a good portion of the nation west of the George Washington Bridge, the rich get richer. There is no end in sight to the New York Yankee parade.

Cly Stengel, the reigning genius, already 41, of a sixth straight fall plucking of another "Hit to the Yank" crop. A year from now he'll probably be picking another crop of series check and talking about No. 7.

Brooklyn, outclassing the National League by winning 105 games, says, "Wait 'till next year"—its annual cliché. The Dodgers mean, of course, wait 'till the next World Series and another chance at the Yanks.

Less than 24 hours after Billy "A run's ninth-inning single won Monday's dramatic 7-6 game Stengel and the Yanks were back at the stadium, entering their equipment.

Johnny Mize, retiring at 40, made the trip for the last time. Mize told Stengel what he had been telling reporters—that he was quitting. The well-liked "Big Cat" is open for offers as manager or hitting coach.

"I'll be back next year to try for No. 6," Stengel said. "If I feel well and if they want me." He is adding, of course, about the "if they want me."

After five straight, a feat never before accomplished, he could write his own ticket any place in baseball. Casey's contract still has another full year to go.

Most of the Brooks gathered at the Ebbets Field clubhouse to peek up for exhibition trips. Roy Campanella has a team that opens Friday with Junior Gilham and Joe Black on the squad. Jackie Robinson has his own team, also heading south.

Carl Erskine, the Dodgers' "All American Boy" who struck out 14 for a new record Friday, will pitch a few games for the team headed by Russ Meyer. They'll play a game in Erskine's town of Hammond, Ind.

One of the most important things the players on both sides will do is watch the mailbox for the jumbo-sized series checks.

Injured Gay Bellamy Is Star Of Week

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member

The high school football star who shone brightest across Nebraska last week is a C. C. C. back who shook an injury and let his team in its biggest game of the fall.

Gay Bellamy, co-captain of Cambridge High School, scored four touchdowns as the strong Trojans posted the opening of Beaver City in the Republican Valley Conference.

Paul Koplin—Trojan center stopped many Union plays. The Blue Devils won 12-0 at home.

Gene Carlson and Bill McQuestan—Two backs who played wood ball for Wakefield in its loss to Ponca.

Marvin Smith—Republican City back ran for 20 yards for touchdown on fourth down at best Orleans, 12-6.

Joe Ayers—Eagle back scored twice, passed for third TD in 20-0 win at Tallahassee.

Ron Swartzek—His defensive play helped Cedar Rapids line stop Bartlett.

Alvin Young—Dumbler and caught two passes for scores in 12-0 win at Nemaha.

Cerald Marts—Three scores pushed Concord's past also.

Dwain Ostrander—Senior back had four TDs against Winnebago as the Bulldogs won 34-0.

Reed Herman—Carlton center stopped everything Reynolds ran.

Redlegs Buy Hurler
CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday night announced the purchase of right-handed pitcher Art Fowler from Atlanta of the Southern Association.

The Firing Line
by Norris Anderson
SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

Since the Nebraska football season was off to a rather dismal start, the "how-do-they-look?" fans of pre-season have changed their tune to "what's wrong?"

One fellow caught us by the elbow before the Oregon game and started in with "How do they look?"

Too early to tell, we said. Switching from the T-formation to the single wing and from the unlimited substitution rule to two duty days is a mammoth task for 20 days of spring drills and 19 more days of fall practice.

"Bear stories," countered the chap. "We're going to do okay. Glassford will get those guys in shape."

The same fellow was on the telephone after the Kansas State game. Oh, he was flowing over with rumors.

One of the players had told him that Glassford had been working them too hard, another had complained of too little attention. We checked with both players mentioned and found they had never heard of or seen the fellow.

It's been that way in heavy volume this week. One lone-eyed character claimed he saw two players shake their heads when the coach beckoned them into the K-State melee. Another check revealed another absolute falsehood.

Everyone seems to have heard something; people who normally are too intelligent to be such unfounded alarmists.

Several have asked why the newspaper didn't launch a campaign against the present Cornhusker athletic administration.

To this we answered, that the answer would be settled on the playing field. We are here to

CAMELS
For Mildness and Flavor

THE YANKEES have won the Series . . . and CAMELS have won these Yankees — along with many other stars in both Leagues!

Fact is, Camels are America's most popular cigarette — first choice for mildness, flavor and pure pleasure! Camels will win with you, too!

Try Camels yourself for 30 days and see what you've been missing! You'll want to keep on enjoying that rich Camel flavor, that cool Camel mildness!

EDDIE LOPAT, Yankee southpaw, says: "I tried different cigarettes. But I picked Camels for their real mildness. And no other cigarette has that good, rich Camel flavor!"

VIC RASCHI, "The Springfield Rifle" of the Yankees, says: "Camels have been my choice for years. I go for that good Camel flavor and genuine Camel mildness every time!"

WHITEY FORD, youthful Yankee hurler, says: "I changed to Camels three years ago. They have a flavor you can't find in any other cigarette. And pack after pack, they're really mild!"

HANK BAUER, Yankee outfielder, says: "Camels have everything I want in a cigarette—mildness and great taste. And I've been smoking Camels for 15 years! You ought to try 'em."

MICKY MARTIN, long-hitting Yankee outfielder, says: "So many of the ball players smoke Camels I tried 'em myself. Camels' mildness and great taste are right for me! How about you?"

JERRY COLEMAN, Yankee infielder, says: "To me Camels have so much richer flavor and have proved to be so mild I've made 'em my steady smoke. It makes sense to try Camels yourself!"

BILLY MARTIN, Yankee second baseman, says: "Sure! I made my own Camel 30-day test—and more! Nothing beats Camels' flavor—and they've got the mildness I like!"

for Mildness and Flavor... CAMELS AGREE WITH MORE PEOPLE THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

Buckeye's Watkins Is 'Back Of Week'

By BOB HOORING
NEW YORK (AP)—Bobby Watkins, the bulldozing Ohio State halfback who scored four touchdowns against California in full view of a nationwide television audience, has been named the Associated Press back-of-the-week.

The chunky 5-9, 185-pound Negro from New Bedford, Mass., was selected on the strength of a brilliant all-around performance which included 145 net yards rushing in 20 tries for an impressive 7.2 average.

Watkins, whose hobby is classical music, scored on sharp, staccato blasts through the line but appeared equally at home darting for long gainers.

The 21-year-old son of a crane operator drew special praise from California Coach Lynn Waldorf who called him "the hardest back we've seen in a long time." Recalling the 1950 Rose Bowl game which had marked the last previous meeting of the two schools Waldorf compared Watkins' hard-driving to that of Buckeye fullback Fred Morrison who wrecked the Cal line at Pasadena.

Watkins, slated for fullback duty this fall, was shifted to right half when injuries struck Jerry Harkrader and Howard Cassidy and has shown amazing versatility in his first two games. In addition to his fullback power and halfback speed Watkins caught four passes for 70 yards and a touchdown against Indiana.

Michigan State's Leroy Bolden, Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, Columbia's Dick Carr, Baylor's Cotton Davidson, Texas A&M's Don Ellis and Northwestern's Dick Thomas pressed Watkins for top honors in the first weekly AP back poll of the 1953 season.

Great Yamato Disqualified In Headliner

Sonny Myers turned a disqualification by his opponent, the Great Yamato into a victory last night as wrestling returned to Lincoln before a sparse crowd at the Fairgrounds.

Yamato grabbed the first fall in the headliner with his judo chop body press at 10 minutes and 40 seconds. Myers came back in almost the same time with his atomic drop body press to even the match.

Yamato then lost the match on a disqualification at 3 minutes 20 seconds.

In the opening match, Little Beaver and Tuffy McCrae won the tag team affair by taking two straight falls from the team of Karl Kruger and Fuzzy Cupia.

The semi-windup was a draw, Ernie Dusek and Rexco Columbo battled to a standoff after each had achieved a fall.

Dusek took the first fall in 19 minutes and 38 seconds with a knee drop and body press and Columbo won the second in 16:30. The remainder of the 60 minute match was even.

Martin Also Wins Slugging Honors
NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Martin, who walked off with most of the 1953 World Series honors, also led both competing teams in slugging averages.

The young Yankee second baseman accounted for 23 total bases (new series record for six games) in 24 times at bat for a remarkable .958 slugging mark. He cracked out 12 hits (also a record), including one double, two triples and two home runs.

Kahl Rambles 120 Yards Per Game

Wesleyan Offense Average Stays High

Despite an ineffective showing against Wayne State Saturday night, Nebraska Wesleyan's offensive football machine continued to move at an average of 207.5 yards per game mark, four-game statistics revealed.

Led by Cliff Kahl with an average of 120.2 per contest with Rolfe Wiegars at 80.5 yards per game in the supporting role, the Plainsmen took to the air for the first time this year to maintain their fast pace, after Wayne's alert line had stymied the ground game.

The Plainsmen, who now own 57 first downs to 46 for foes, are averaging 241.2 yards on the ground and 66.2 in the air. Opponents have rushed to 207.4 per contest and passed to an even 51 yards per game.

Alert defensive play on the part of both the Plainsmen and their foes, have held passing games in check. Wesleyan defenders have nabbed 11 enemy passes while opponents have stolen 10 Plainsmen efforts. The Plainsmen have fumbled 16 times, recovering but five. Foes have fumbled 17 and recovered 7.

Rolfe Wiegars, handling most of the Wesleyan punting chores, has booted 11 times for 404 yards and a 36.7 average. Kahl continues to lead the scoring brigade with 36 points on six touchdowns. Charles Lanik has booted 8 of 10 extra point tries.

Montreal Royals To Try For Sweep
KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Montreal Royals of the International League will try to make it four straight over the Kansas City Blues of the American Association and thus win the Little World Series here tonight. The two clubs were traveling Tuesday from Montreal.

Bob Ferris is slated to start for Kansas City in the fourth game.

The Blues will be seeking to avoid going into the record book as the only team whitewashed since the series has been played on a best of seven basis. All four of the series in which Kansas City teams previously competed went the route.

The Royals made a clean sweep of the first three tilts, winning a 5 to 3 victory Monday night by capitalizing on Bob Wiesler's wildness and Kansas City defensive shortcomings.

Wiesler yielded only five hits, including one double, in six innings but he lacked control and allowed six bases on balls.

Omaha May Ban Night Football

OMAHA (AP)—It was reported Tuesday that night football for Omaha public high schools may be discontinued because of what was called the "deplorable action of a small number of fans."

The report came from a man high in school administrative circles. He asked that his name not be used.

He said the situation will be discussed at the next meeting of high school principals. He offered the opinion principals will ban night play if there are more "incidents."

There have been numerous reports of after-game fights. The father of one high school student who was slugged while awaiting a bus has offered a reward for information leading to the arrest of his son's assailants.

Improper advances have been reported by some high school girls during football games.

Grouse Hunters Warned Against Fire Hazard

Hunters planning to participate in Nebraska's grouse season which opens Saturday have been advised to "leave the pipe and cigarettes in the car."

"Ranchers, particularly in the tall grass country, are worried about fire, and justifiably so," commented Commission Secretary Paul Gilbert.

"Unless you have lived in grass or forest country and have seen one of those fires, you have no idea what it's like."

"Co-operation on the part of the hunter is very important. The hunter should identify himself to the rancher and make sure to refrain from smoking while out in the field," Gilbert added.

The grouse season ends Oct. 15. The commission has no plans to delay opening of the state deer season because of the drought. Colorado officials have postponed opening of the big game season there because of the fire hazard.

The Colorado season originally was scheduled to open Oct. 15 on the western slope and Oct. 20 on the eastern slope.

Title Go Slated

NEW YORK (INS)—International Boxing Club President Jim Norris announced Tuesday that Kid Gavilan will defend his welterweight title against Johnny Bhatton on Nov. 6 at a place still to be determined.

Gavilan won a split decision from Carmen Basilio in his last title defense last month at Syracuse. Bhatton's last victory also came on a split verdict over Al (Sugar) Wilson last Thursday at Baltimore.

Is he in business "to stay?"

When you buy a used car from a Ford Dealer, you're dealing with an established businessman who has a large investment and his good name at stake. We're here today, and we'll be here tomorrow!

Does he really know cars?

Ford Dealers are in the service business, too; work with cars day in and day out. We know how to spot trouble fast. And, our expert mechanics have the equipment and "know-how" to handle any service job.

Are his prices really fair?

Ford Dealers handle used cars and trucks as a service to customers who trade them for new ones. We get a lot of trade-ins. And we keep these used cars moving to free our working capital. That's one reason why we offer our used cars and trucks at rock-bottom prices.

Is he interested in you?

Remember—we Ford Dealers want to keep your good will because someday we hope to sell you a new car, or another used car, and we want your service business. It's just plain good business for us to play square with you.

Do his cars meet A-1 standards?

When you go to a Ford Dealer's and see the A-1 label on a car, you know it has met with the dealer's A-1 standards. And because you can trust the man you bought it from, you can trust the car.

IT'S WHERE YOU BUY IT THAT COUNTS!

City Council Will Hear Garbage Group Nov. 18

At the request of applicants, the City Council has set Nov. 18 as the day for hearing on the request of the United Garbage Association for a charter amendment empowering the Council to pass an ordinance for dividing the city into districts for garbage collection purposes.

Hearing on the request had originally been set for Oct. 5. The Association has stated that the districting would provide better and more economical collection.

Britain Rushes Forces To Guiana To Guard Against Reds

LONDON (AP)—Britain announced Tuesday night it is rushing naval and military forces to British Guiana to protect that South American colony against "the intrigues of Communists."

The announcement came after the British cabinet met to talk over the troubled situation in the rum and sugar colony where the British governor reportedly is considering the dismissal of some of his leftwing ministers.

A colonial office statement, breaking an official five-day silence, warned of a Red plot in Georgetown, the colony's capital where the powerful People's Progressive Party (PPP) is pressing for greater independence for British Guiana.

The statement said that if the plot were allowed to hatch, the plotters might have tried to set up a Communist-dominated state.

"This would lead to bloodshed," the statement added.

"In view of the latest developments, her majesty's government felt it necessary to send naval and military forces to Georgetown with the utmost dispatch in order to preserve peace and the safety of all classes."

British warships already have been reported steaming full speed for the troubled territory.

A colonial office spokesman told newsmen the Communist movement inside and outside the local British Guiana government is led by the U.S.-born wife of Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan, the former Janet Rosenberg of Chicago, Ill.

A British Admiralty spokesman said late Tuesday night that the 33,000-ton aircraft carrier Implacable, "has been ordered to make preparations to take reinforcements to the West Indies."

The spokesman said the 8,000-ton cruiser Superb and the 1,600-ton frigates Bigbury Bay and Burghhead Bay are speeding troops to Georgetown.

Britain also dispatched the 9,100-ton cruiser Sheffield from Scotland to the West Indies.

Advices from the colony described the situation as tense but quiet.

Read what Wall St. Journal says:

Detroit Studies Sales of "Continental" Studebaker

By a Wall Street Journal Staff Reporter

DETROIT—Studebaker, which was a big factor in setting early-postwar auto styles, may now be setting the pattern for the next few years.

Its 1946 model, designed with lavish use of glass by Raymond Loewy, was the first completely redesigned postwar car. The South Bend, Ind., concern made no further major change until its current 1953 car, with three H introduced low, rakish "Continental" styling. Also designed by Loewy, the new model cost $27 million to introduce, double the 1946 cost.

A top Detroit analyst, employed by a rival manufacturer, says that the current Studebaker will affect the future looks of many competitive makes from the industry.

The '53 Studebaker is a '54 in style! Studebaker's far-advanced Raymond Loewy design is out ahead now and it won't be outmoded a few months from now. No other '53 car can make that statement! Studebaker's outstanding styling received the famed Fashion Academy Award.

The '53 Studebaker is motoring's economy star! This strikingly original car is the ideal combination of low price—low gas consumption—low upkeep—high resale value—a sensation in this year's Mobilgas run.

The '53 Studebaker is new insurance of safety! Every Studebaker has huge expanses of glass that give all-around big visibility. Studebaker's far advanced low-swing design assures road-hugging steadiness on turns and curves.

The '53 Studebaker leads in advanced engineering! It's America's most superbly balanced car—designed free from unnecessary bulk and power-wasting excess weight. The Champion engine surges with zip and pep. The Commander has motoring's most thrillingly responsive V-8 engine.

The '53 Studebaker excels in quality workmanship! Every car in the line reflects the painstaking care of Studebaker's father-and-son teams and thousands of other skilled craftsmen.

The '53 Studebaker is sensationally low priced! Studebaker sedans, coupes and hard-tops are all down to earth in price. The 1953 Studebaker Champion you see here is one of the lowest priced cars in America.

KITCHEN CRAFT "Family Circles" FLOUR

New marbleized doughnuts... Fall's most tender treat!

Sift 3/4 cups sifted Kitchen Craft Flour with 4 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. soda and 1 tsp. salt.

Beat 2 eggs, 3/4 c. sugar and 1 tsp. vanilla till light. Stir in 1 c. buttermilk and 2 tsp. melted shortening. Stir in flour mixture. Sprinkle 1/2 tsp. red food color over half of batter. 2 tsp. melted chocolate over remaining half. Marbleize batter by running a fork back and forth through it. Chill. Turn out onto lightly floured surface. Roll to 1/4" thickness; cut with doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat 365°F until golden brown, turning once. Drain well, over kettle, then place on absorbent paper.

Hot doughnuts should be shaken in a bag containing a little ground cinnamon mixed with granulated sugar. Use confectioners' sugar for cooled doughnuts.

*To make 1 cup buttermilk, place 1 tsp. vinegar in a measuring cup and fill to 1 cup mark with sweet milk.

'Experts Suspended By Army'

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Washington Times-Herald in a copyrighted dispatch by Willard Edwards said Tuesday night that two of the nation's top scientists working on development of U. S. radar defenses against enemy attack have been suspended by the Army as security risks.

The story reported that two other scientific workers and a clerical employee assigned to top-secret military work also have been suspended.

Edwards declared that several persons who figured in the Rosenberg spy case are involved in the investigation and that links will be established with the atomic espionage ring which included the two executed spies.

He said the five persons suspended have been working at the closely guarded laboratories of the Army Signal Corps at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where they have had access to the nation's defense secrets in the electronics field.

May Be Known

The story said the case, now under study by the Senate Investigations Committee headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), became known "as the military world was shaken to the core by the realization that its latest experiments in defense against atomic attack may be known to Russia."

(It was learned at Ft. Monmouth that 14 civilians still employed by the Army Signal Corps have been directed to appear before the staff of the Senate committee in New York City Thursday.

In addition, it was also learned that subpoenas have been issued by the committee for the appearance of various persons identified with the Communist movement in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.)

Spokesmen for the McCarthy committee were not immediately available for comment.

The Times-Herald dispatch said: "Conditions already discovered have caused investigators to state that eventual revelations may approach those of the atomic spy case involving Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who paid the death penalty for feeding secrets to Soviet Russia."

"Thirty employees at Ft. Monmouth, in addition to those suspended, are under investigation on security grounds. A number of these will be questioned by the McCarthy subcommittee."

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fleeting, non-pitching and a tormenting rural tick are often told about the case of Pin-Worms. That's why medical experts may insist one out of every three persons examined. Rarely does a family escape without at least one member being afflicted with Pin-Worms. To get rid of Pin-Worms, there's only one way to go. First—don't let them be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredients go right to work—kill the Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for Jayne's P-W Tablets... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by Dr. D. Jayne and used by him for over 100 years.

Stark Gets Another Year For Escape

Francis Lee Stark, 24, formerly of Kent, Wash., who pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to a charge of escape from the Nebraska State Reformatory on April 28, 1951, was sentenced to an additional year in the State Penitentiary.

He was serving an 18-months-to-three-year furlough sentence, given Dec. 9, 1950 from York County, at the time of his escape.

Stark was returned here after serving a three-year federal term for conviction under the Dyer Act in May, 1951. He was arrested in Utah.

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

New Conoco Super Gasoline

with TCP*

Start the "TWO-TANK TEST" today!

Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP has been rightfully called the greatest advance in motor fuels since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922. For here, at last, is a gasoline so dramatically different that the average motorist can feel the improvement in his car after just two tankfuls. Yes, after your second tankful, chances are you will know why we say Conoco Super with TCP will:

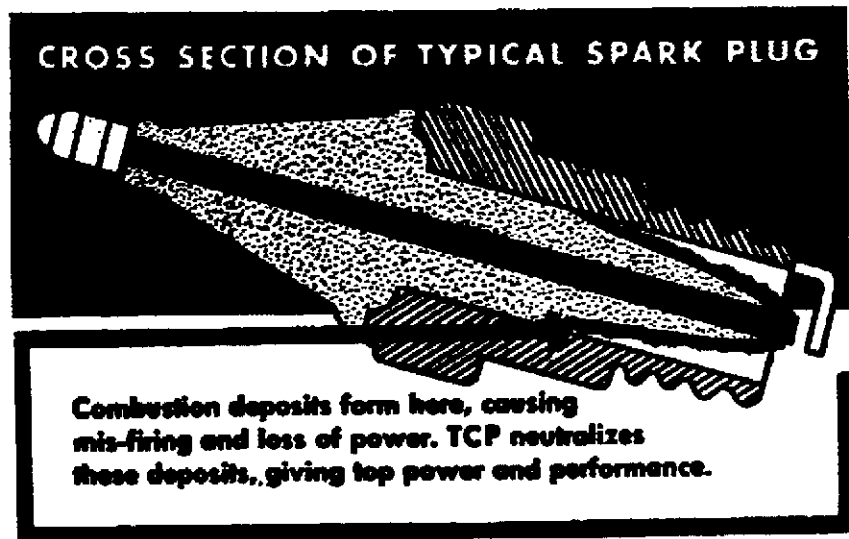

- Boost power as much as 15%!
- Increase spark-plug life up to 150%!
- Give you extra gas mileage!

For Conoco Super is a new kind of gasoline—a gasoline especially developed to correct the greatest single cause of power loss affecting most of the cars on the road today.

Combustion deposits drastically reduce power

When you drive your car, deposits constantly build up on spark plugs and in the combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power in two ways. First, they short-circuit spark plugs—causing them to mis-fire. Second, deposits in the combustion chambers cause fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping."

*Trademark owned and patent applied for by Shell Oil Company

The combined effect of mis-firing and pre-ignition is loss of power, lack of "pep" and wasted gas.

How Conoco Super with TCP works

TCP is a special chemical additive which is added to Conoco Super Gasoline. It was specifically developed to overcome the loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs—your plugs spark as they should. It prevents deposits in the combustion chambers from causing pre-ignition—"wild ping" is controlled. Thus, every time you fill up with new Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP, it's like getting your spark plugs cleaned and your engine tuned-up.

TCP helps your car, whether new or old

If you are driving a new car, with a high-compression engine, you need Conoco Super Gasoline to keep your car delivering all the power that was built into it. If you drive an older car, with tens of thousands of miles on the speedometer, Conoco Super can restore much of the "new car" performance and power you've been missing.

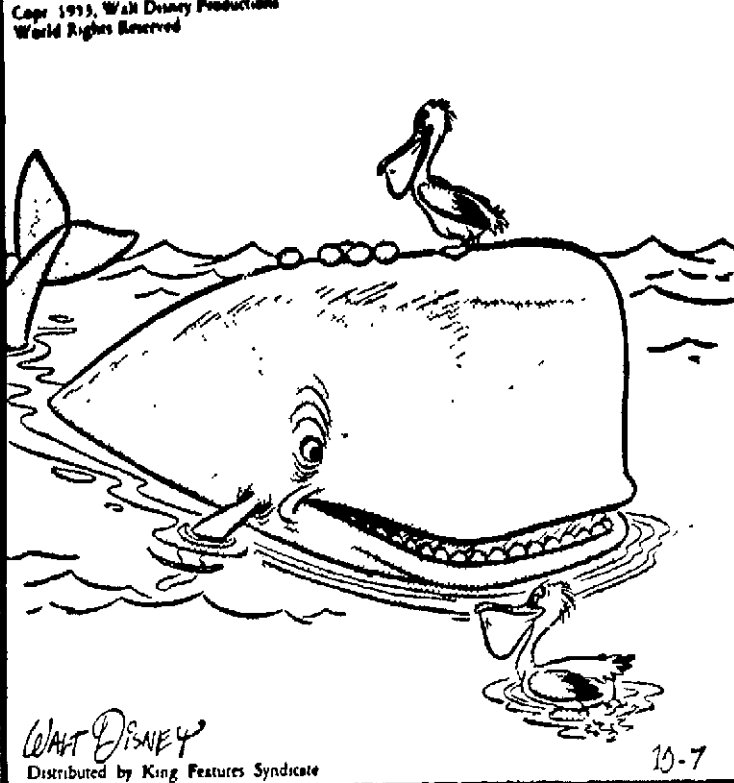

Start your "TWO-TANK TEST" today

When your gasoline tank is one-quarter full or less, fill it with Conoco Super with TCP. Now, there will still be some ordinary gasoline mixed in with your Conoco Super. So make sure your next tankful is Conoco Super, too. So rapidly does Conoco Super work, that with this second tankful, chances are you'll feel as if your engine has had a tune-up. You'll feel a boost in power. Try it today. We're sure you'll stay with Conoco Super.

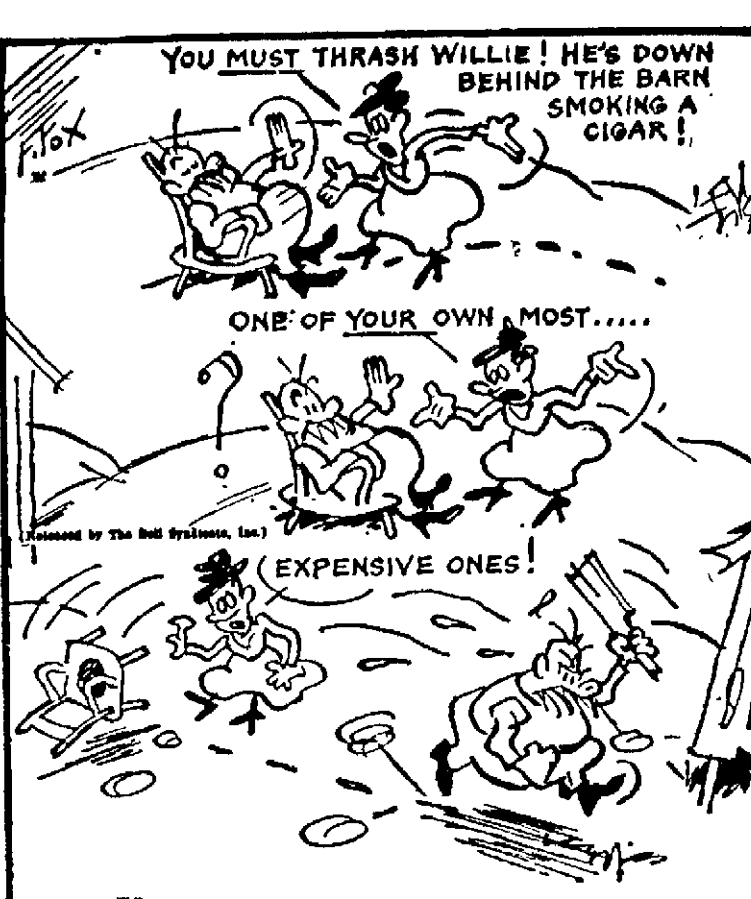

Now—exclusively at your Conoco dealer!

Housing Authority Shows Profit Of $12,328

The Housing Authority of Lincoln has presented an annual report to the City Council showing a net profit of $12,328.74 for the 1952-53 fiscal year.

The Authority pointed out that no tax money is involved in its operation. The report also stated that reactivation by the Air Force of property east of B Avenue "drastically curtailed" Authority operations.

The relinquishment to the military of that area, said the report, reduced the number of dwelling units from 730 to 287. The lease for those 287 units expires June 30, 1955.

The Authority has asked the Council for an opinion on the final outcome of the 287 units. Whether the lease is renewed or not, said Authority Chairman Judge Robin Reid, will determine the extent of maintenance over the next few years.

While one Council cannot bind future Councils, said Mayor Clark Jeary, the Authority will be given a recommendation in regard to maintenance work.

Since the Korean War, the demand for student housing has increased, the Authority report stated, and at the present time all units at Huskerville are occupied.

90 Quarts Of Vegetables Stolen From Residence

A person who evidently is a vegetarian made off with 90 quarts of home canned vegetables and fruits from the home of Willard Jensen, 4827 Knox.

With a total value of $50, the products stolen include 30 quarts of tomatoes, 20 quarts of tomato juice, 20 quarts of pickles, sweet; and 10 quarts of pickles, dill; six quarts of peas, three quarts of beets, and 12 jars of jellies.

County Road Fatalities Equal Highway Toll

Col. C. J. Sanders of the State Safety Patrol says many persons associate traffic deaths with heavy highway traffic—but that was not altogether true in September when 40 persons were killed as compared to 33 in the month last year.

Col. Sanders pointed out that county road accidents claimed 18 lives this September, the same number as did main highway accidents. Four persons were killed in city accidents.

The patrol chief said "we feel that this high number of county roads deaths is due to motorists being less alert while traveling these roads. They feel they are the only ones on that road."

Snow Fence Is Readied By State

It's warm and dry now, but the State Highway Department is preparing for winter's snow, just the same.

Nearly 1,000 miles of snow fence must be set up in the next few weeks. Some already is in place.

Maintenance crews begin this annual chore early in October.

To replace wornout fence and provide some additional length, the department bought 160,000 feet of fence and 12,000 posts this year.

"Like the farmers who went ahead and seeded wheat hoping it would rain pretty soon, we also seeded some rights-of-way," Maintenance Engineer John McMeekin said.

The department uses seed harvested from rights-of-way for seeding. This year's harvest of bronze grass seed amounted to 40,000 pounds.

Mowing of rights-of-way will continue until snow falls, McMeekin said.

French Destroy Vital Red Supply Link

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietnamese parachute troopers and loyal guerrillas have blown up a vital bridge across the river Red River in a second raid on Vietminh installations in the Lao Kay area, the French high command announced Tuesday night.

The bridge, a link in the Communist-led enemy's supply chain from Red China, crossed the river between the frontier fortress city of Lao Kay, 140 miles northwest of Hanoi, and the village of Coc Lieu.

The French said thousands of tons of war equipment which the Vietminh had stored up for an offensive in northern Indochina were destroyed in the first raid Monday. This was staged by 30 or 40 volunteer parachutists with the backing of native partisans and French warplanes.

The new strike was made through Coc Lieu. A French army spokesman said the destruction of the bridge dealt a serious blow to the Vietminh, who have been routing to Lao Kay much of the supplies and equipment received from China.

The spokesman said he considered the operation finished with the destruction of the bridge. Presumably the parachute troops expect friendly tribesmen to help them fight off any pursuit from the Vietminh as they head back toward French lines.

Far down the river, the Vietminh stepped up a campaign of harassment of French Union forces in the delta between Hanoi and the Gulf of Tonkin even as 15,000 French troops pressed the mop-up of an enemy brigade they first encircled two weeks ago.

Raining Cats

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—It didn't rain cats and dogs here — just cats. During a shower, Barbara Crook, a restaurant employee, went outside and let the awning down. Six kittens promptly fell on her. The mother cat apparently had tucked her family in the awning for shelter.

City Will Consider Expanding Charter Paving Provision

The city, at the suggestion of Councilman Rees Wilkinson, will consider the expansion of the existing charter provision which gives the City Council authority to order in paving in the one and one-half mile area surrounding the City Hall.

The city, said Wilkinson, has greatly expanded since that charter provision was drafted. Wilkinson will serve as chairman of a committee composed of himself, Mayor Clark Jeary and City Engineer D. L. Erickson to study the possible expansion of the area.

You'll immediately recognize the famous make when you see this lingerie. Some of the items have permanently pleated trimmings, dainty nylon net trimmings and rich nylon lace trim. This nylon tricot lingerie requires no ironing and it dries in just a short time. The irregularities will not impair the wear or beauty of these garments. You may choose from assorted colors or white.
